The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

Sam^l Morris's

The following Addreſs, &c. was deſigned for laſt Week's Paper, but for Want of Room obliged to be deferred.

St. James's, Oct. 8. This day the Right Hon. the Lord Mayor (Sir Robert Ladbroke, Knt. Locum Tenens) Aldermen, and Commons of the city of London, in common council aſſembled, waited on his Majeſty; and being introduced to his Majeſty by the Right Hon. the Earl of Oxford, James Eyre, Eſq; the Recorder, made their compliments in the following Addreſs.

To the KING's Moſt Excellent MAJESTY.

Moſt Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal ſubjects, the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Commons of the city of London, in common council aſſembled, with the moſt zealous ardour and affection, embrace the earlieſt opportunity of approaching the throne of the beſt of Princes, with our joyful congratulations on every event pleaſing to your Majeſty, and ſalutary to your kingdoms.

The ſafe delivery of the Queen, a Princeſs endeared to your Majeſty and the whole nation by every royal and virtuous accompliſhment, fills our hearts with the utmoſt thankfulneſs to Divine Providence.

An increaſe of your Majeſty's auguſt family by the birth of a Princeſs Royal, cannot fail of diffuſing univerſal joy amongſt all your faithful ſubjects, as it farther ſecures to them and their poſterity, a long continuance of thoſe ineſtimable bleſſings which they have hitherto enjoyed under the protection of your Majeſty's illuſtrious houſe.

The auſpicious marriage of your Majeſty's Royal ſiſter, the Princeſs Caroline Matilda, with that great Potentate the King of Denmark (on which we beg leave to felicitate your Majeſty) muſt afford the moſt intereſting ſatisfaction, not only to us and all your Majeſty's loyal ſubjects, but alſo to every Proteſtant power in Europe.

Permit us, Royal Sir! to aſſure you, That your faithful Citizens of London are ever ready to evince to all the world, that their hearts and affections are ſincere oblations of gratitude to your Majeſty, for your conſtant paternal care, and eſpecially for the recent inſtance of your tender attention to the neceſſities of your people.

To which ADDRESS His Majeſty was pleaſed to return this moſt gracious ANSWER:

'YOUR loyal and affectionate profeſſions upon the happy 'events of my Queen's ſafe delivery, and the marriage of 'my ſiſter to my very good ally the King of Denmark, cannot 'but be moſt exceptable to me.

'It is with pleaſure that I ſee the juſt ſenſe which the city of 'London entertains of thoſe meaſures, which the neceſſity of 'the occaſion obliged me to take for the relief of my people; 'and I hope they will have the deſired effect of quieting mens 'minds, and removing the diſtreſſes which ſeemed daily to in'creaſe."

They were all received very graciouſly, and had the honour to kiſs his Majeſty's hand.

After which his Majeſty was pleaſed to confer the honour of Knighthood on Robert Darling, and James Eſdail, Eſquires, the Sheriffs of the city of London.

Whiteball, Oct. 11. The King has been pleaſed to appoint the Right Hon. Wills Earl of Hillſborough, of the kingdom of Ireland, Soame Jenyns, Edward Elliot, George Rice, John Roberts, Jeremiah Dyſon, William Fitzherbert, and Thomas Robinſon, Eſquires, to be his Majeſty's Commiſſioners for trade and plantations.

Edinburgh, Oct. 8. On Monday laſt his Majeſty's commiſſion came down, appointing the Right Hon. James Stewart Mackenzie, Eſq; Lord Privy Seal for Scotland.

Dublin, Oct. 5. It is talked here, that the liſts of all the penſions, civil and military, on this kingdom, that have been granted for lives and for years, are to be laid before the Engliſh parliament next ſeſſion; as alſo the enrolments of all the patents, and his Majeſty's letters for granting civil and military penſions on this eſtabliſhment.

LONDON, October 9.

Yeſterday the Gentlemen of the Duke of Cumberland's houſhold were preſented to his Royal Highneſs at Leiceſter-houſe; the liſt of them is as follows: Edward Le Grand, Eſq; Treaſurer; Col. Craig, Major Deaken, and Capt. Jennings, Grooms of the Bedchamber; Captain Fowke, Captain Garth, and Capt. Campbell, Equeries; Mr. Duval, Secretary.

On Thurſday laſt, in conſequence of the Lord Lieutenant of Glouceſter's notice, a great number of gentlemen of the firſt rank in that country met at the Boothall, and reſolved upon the following beneficial regulations.

That they will give all encouragement to their tenants to threſh out and bring their corn, and all other proviſions, to market immediately.

That they will proſecute, to the utmoſt of their power, all foreſtallers, ingroſſers, and regrators, at their joint expence.

That the Juſtices of Peace, acting in the ſeveral diviſions wherein any market town is ſituated, will iſſue their warrants to the ſeveral conſtables of ſuch market-towns, and the adjacent pariſhes, to charge all able bodied perſons within their reſpective pariſhes to aid and aſſiſt in quelling all riots.

That the ſaid Juſtices will alſo attend at ſuch market towns, on the market days, for one month enſuing, to aſſiſt the civil or military force that ſhall be employed to quell ſuch riots, and to ſecure the peaceable ſale of all commodities that ſhall be brought to ſuch markets.

Signed by Lords Berkeley, Beaufort, Botetourt, Ducie, and 37 gentlemen of the greateſt property in that county.

At the above meeting it was agreed, that an addreſs of thanks ſhould be preſented to his Majeſty, for the ſeaſonable ſtop to the exportation of corn, and to the diſtilling.

October 14.

The Romney man of war, after being new ſheathed, is to be ſtationed again at Halifax in Nova Scotia.

A letter from Civita Vecchia, ſays, "We have now the mortification to hear, that the remainder of the grain, which we expected from Naples, is likely to be detained there by the King's order. The ſcarcity of that commodity increaſes daily in the eccleſiaſtic ſtate; but we hope to be ſoon relieved, if the different commiſſions ſent to nearly all the countries of Europe meet with ſucceſs."

Yeſterday the Right Hon. Mr. Hervey, next brother and principal Secretary to his Excellency the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, kiſſed his Majeſty's hand, on being appointed one of the moſt honourable Privy Council of this kingdom.

It is confidently reported, that the preſent embargo on Britiſh merchant ſhips trading to Corſica, which has continued for many years, will be taken off the enſuing ſeſſions of parliament.

Every body is pleaſed with the additional honour his Majeſty has conferred upon Lord Northumberland: It is a diſtinction that will be well ſupported on all parts. Titles dignify other perſons: Theſe dignify titles.

LONDON.

October 2. It is thought that the Engliſh and Scoteh gentlemen now in Corſica, have taken a trip thither, induced as much by buſineſs as curioſity. The value of that iſland is not generally known; but it is thought that it will not remain long before the uſefulneſs of its ports, product of the country, and its ſituation, will ſtimulate our government to annex it, if they can, to the crown of Great-Britain.

Laſt Thurſday morning a poor labouring man was found in a gardiner's ground at Plymouth, by a ſervant. The man found him ſtanding againſt a hedge, with his eyes fixed upwards into a tree; upon which the man ſpoke to him, and told him his maſter would be angry if he came and found him there; but no anſwer being made, he ran and fetched a boy that was in the garden, and went up to the man calling, but yet had no anſwer. They then took him by the hands, which they found quite ſtiff, upon which they were both frightened, and ran to call their maſter and miſtreſs, who came and found the man in the poſture as above; but they ſoon diſcovered there was life in him. By this time it was ſpread round the neighbourhood, and the man was by ſome known. His wife was ſent for, who came, and, with ſome aſſiſtance, got him home. She ſaid that he left her the ſame morning, about 3 o'clock, with an intent to go to Catdown, to load a barge with lime ſtone. He continued ſpeechleſs till he died. There were no apples, nor any thing elſe, found in his pockets. It is ſaid that when he left his wife and children, he wiſhed the D---l might have him if ever he ſaw them more. Let this be as it will; raſh and profane vows are always productive of evil; therefore let the unhappy fate of this poor creature be a warning to others.

The quantity of corn uſed by the diſtillers in and about London, in a ſeaſon, in making ſpirits for exportation, and for home conſumption, is at leaſt one hundred and ninety thouſand quarters. This calculation is made from their own evidence, delivered before a great aſſembly, that fourteen quarters of grain were uſed in making a ton of ſpirits. The number of tons that are made are not exaggerated, when they are rated at only fourteen thouſand in a year. For the further information of the public, it muſt be obſerved, that all the grain uſed by the diſtillers is of the very beſt ſorts of barley, rye, malt, and wheat, and that it is all uſed in about ſix months. Now ſuch a quantity of wheat would feed 80,000 people a year; inſtead of which, by being made into ſpirits, it may be the deſtruction of thouſands.

October 4. A letter from Norwich, dated Oct. 1, ſays, "Every thing here has been in great confuſion, occaſioned by the outrageous proceedings of a diſtreſt mob, which aſſembled on Saturday laſt, and have done a great deal of damage to our Millers and Bakers, by breaking and deſtroying every thing in their houſes, and burning a large granary. The principal inhabitants armed themſelves with quarter ſtaves, engaged the mob, took twenty-eight priſoners, and put the reſt to flight; ſince which they have not been able to make head: The whole city has been illuminated, and upwards of five hundred of the inhabitants patrolled the ſtreets for two nights paſt; we do not intend to illuminate to night, as we believe they are in general diſperſed."

They write from Algiers, that the maſter of a Genoeſe bark, who had ventured to put in there under Engliſh colours, and a falſe paſs, had been thrown into priſon, and circumciſed, by order of the Dey, and his veſſel confiſcated; which that Prince had declared ſhould be the puniſhment of all ſuch offenders; the crew, conſiſting of ſeven men, were made priſoners.

Oct. 7. It is ſaid that the Eaſt-India company, as a grateful acknowledgment for the many great and ſignal advantages with which it has pleaſed Divine Providence to bleſs their arms in the Eaſt-Indies, intend to alleviate the diſtreſs of their unfortunate fellow ſubjects in Barbados, with a donation of ſeveral thouſand pounds.

It is likewiſe ſaid, that ſeveral other companies, particularly the South-Sea, will, according to their reſpective abilities, follow this truly glorious example.

Commiſſions have been received by the packet from Liſbon, to buy up a number of cannon, from 12 to 36 pounders, to be ſhipped for the Portugueſe weſtern iſlands.

The diſputes between the King of Pruſſia and England are at preſent ſubſided. His demand, it is ſaid, was half our conqueſts in America, as co-partners in trade; on which England demanded Half-Sileſia, and his other conqueſts, which the King of Pruſſia refuſed, and threatened to invade Hanover: He was then informed, if any of his troops ſet foot on the territories of that electorate, all his ſhips ſhould be ſeized immediately, and then he might ſee whether the money he could raiſe in Hanover, would be equal to the profit received by the trade of 600 ſhips conſtantly employed, which the King of Pruſſia is poſſeſſed of.

According to private advices from Hamburgh, a report was current, that his Pruſſian Majeſty was actually making diſpoſitions for bringing a powerful army into the field next ſpring; but the ſecret object of theſe preparations were variouſly talked of.

Advice is received here from Amſterdam, that a Dutch veſſel was lately boarded by an Algerine Corſair, near Teneriffe, and plundered of her live ſtock, and a quantity of cabin and ſhip ſtores; but the Barbarians did not proceed to break up the hatches, or meddle with the cargo.

The King of Denmark has appointed the Baron de Dieden to be his Miniſter at this Court, in the room of Count Bothmar, recalled.

Accounts from Birmingham, dated the 2d inſtant, inform, that on the Monday before, being their fair day, ſome people aſſembled there, and demanded a reduction in the price of proviſions, and grew riotous; which occaſioned the interpoſition of the peace officers, who carried ſeveral of them to priſon; but they were afterwards releaſed through the threats of their confederates. Next day the inhabitants were ſummoned, and bread, butter, &c. were ſettled at a reaſonable price. And ſeveral gentlemen of fortune appearing in the market-place, promiſed protection to the farmers and others, who would ſupply the market at moderate prices; and threatened puniſhment to ſuch of the populace who ſhould offer any inſults; by which ſpirited behaviour, all further diſturbances were prevented.

By letters received yeſterday from Leiceſter we are informed, that the mob have lately pulled down the county jail, in order to reſcue ſome rioters confined there on account of ſeizing corn, butter, &c. offered to ſale at an exorbitant price.

Oct. 9. A letter from Leiceſter, dated Oct. 4, ſays, "This town is, or rather has been, in an uproar. The Mayor, Recorder, &c. were yeſterday ſelling fine cheeſe at 2d per lb. A cheeſefactor had bought, and lodged at an inn in the town, a large quantity of cheeſe, which the mob ſeized, and were going to divide among themſelves; in order to prevent it, he agreed it ſhould be ſold for 2d. per lb. The mob examine all waggons that come into the town, and take all butter and cheeſe they find in them. By ſtealing ſmall parcels, and damages done to his waggon, one carrier is a ſufferer to the amount of 50l. The proclamation againſt riots has been read. They told the Mayor, who is a baker, that they would pull down his houſe, and burn his mills. The windows of the bridewell and the goal have been broken."

Oct. 11. A letter from Great Colton, Warwickſhire, dated Oct. 6, ſays, "A mob has riſen here, conſiſting of upwards of 1000 men, who divided themſelves into gangs of three or 400 each, and continue traverſing from one market town to another, doing incredible miſchief wherever they come; the reaſon they alledge for their aſſembling in this manner, is the farmers ſending their new corn to Briſtol for exportation, which has raiſed its price to 8 s. per buſhel, and through this iniquitous practice the bakers ſell only three pounds four ounces of bread for ſix pence. In their route they viſited Alceſter market, where they committed no very great outrages; from thence they proceeded to Kidderminſter, where the ſoldiers being under arms (having heard of their approach) fired at them, and killed eight perſons upon the ſpot; but we have not heard which ſide got the better. Intelligence has been received here, that the Birmingham gang went to Stratford, well armed, and with iron caps on their heads; ſtopping all the wheat they met in their route, and diſpoſing of it at their own prices. If ſome ſpeedy method be not found out to relieve the diſtreſſes of the people, there is no knowing where this will end."

Laſt Friday a number of genteel people of both ſexes, began to aſſemble at St. James's, in order to regale themſelves with caudle and cake. The doors were not open till five, at which time they were increaſed to many thouſands, and thronged in ſuch a tumultuous manner, that one lady was almoſt preſſed to death. The battle-axes were obliged to drive them all out, it being impoſſible (unleſs ſuch a miracle as that of the loaves and fiſhes had been wrought) to ſatisfy the craving appetites of ſuch a vaſt multitude. This mortifying diſappointment chagrined a prodigious concourſe of ladies, who thirſted for the honour of having it to ſay, in future times, that they had eat cake, and drank caudle, at the birth of the Princeſs Royal of England.

Letters from Cadiz, dated Sept. 9, ſay, "The advices from our ſettlements in South America, which arrive here very regularly, by means of the packets eſtabliſhed for that purpoſe, ſay, that every thing there is in a ſtate of pefect tranquillity; ſo that what has been publiſhed in foreign news-papers to the contrary, is falſe, and invented."

Two Salletine corſairs were ſpoke with the 18th of laſt month, cruizing off the iſland of Teneriffe, by the Captain of an Engliſh veſſel arrived at Briſtol.

Oct. 14. Laſt week a party of dragoons were ſent for from Glouceſter by the inhabitants of Cirenceſter, and likewiſe from ſeveral market towns, in order to protect them from the inſurrections of the populace.

October 16. A letter from Marlborough, in Wilts, ſays, that at the quarter-ſeſſions lately held there, the appearance of magiſtrates was the greateſt ever known; and notwithſtanding the tumults in that county have been exceſſive, yet every thing was then, and ſtill continues quiet. A very extraordinary circumſtance happened at the ſeſſions; when the Grand Jury came into court with their preſentments, a byſtander informed the Magiſtrates, that one of the body had been a principal ringleader of a very daring and outrageous mob at Cricklade; the court immediately took his information, obliged him to proſecute, and the Grand Jury found two bills for felony againſt a man who juſt before had been one of their fellows. He has a real eſtate of 100l. a year, and upwards. There are committed to Saliſbury goal about 30 notorious offenders, and we hear they are to be tried as ſoon as poſſible by a ſpecial commiſſion.

The riots have had ſuch an effect at Newbury in Berkſhire, that the Mayor and Corporation have requeſted butchers, farmers, and other people, who ſell proviſions, to bring into the town the ſeveral articles they can ſupply; and promiſe, that if they are moleſted, to endeavour to protect them; and if their goods are deſtroyed, or taken from them; or if by any means they ſuſtain damage, the Corporation will reſtore their loſſes.

A letter from Leiceſter, dated the 11th inſt. informs, that a mob at Dunnington having intelligence brought them where ſome boats laden with cheeſe lay, which had that day fallen down the river, about duſk the ſame evening collected together, in number about 500, and went in ſearch of them; one of which they ſoon found, ſet up a great ſhout, lighted a fire, and immediately ſet to unloading the cargoe, the greateſt part of which, amounting to 900l. the property of one perſon, was given away to their companions. Fifty pounds were offered by the owner of the cheeſe, if they would ſuffer the cargoes of the boats to remain untouched, and that a pair of ſcales ſhould be erected, and the country ſupplied at 2d. per lb. To which one of the ringleaders replied, "Damn his charity, we'll have the cheeſe for nought."

Early on Saturday morning a letter was found in the area of Mr. Horner, an Attorney, at Alton, in Hants; threatening that the whole town ſhould be ſet on fire in four different places at once, and reduced to aſhes, if the price of proviſions is not lowered; and alſo declaring that the poor would rather be killed or hanged than ſtarved to death: The inhabitants were put into great conſternation on the occaſion, and have taken proper precautions to prevent the threatened miſchief.

We hear, that a few days ago was married at Week St. Mary, in Cornwall, William Auger, aged 103, to Mary Bray, of the ſame pariſh, aged 20.

Glouceſter, Oct. 13. We hear from Hereford, that, in order to prevent any tumult or diſturbances in the market there, the Mayor of that city, attended by the ſeveral other magiſtrates, with their officers and conſtables, did, on Saturday laſt, proceed through the ſeveral markets in that city, exhorting the farmers and others to accept of a reaſonable price for their ſeveral commodities expoſed to ſale, and the common people to a due ſubmiſſion and obedience to the laws; which had a very good effect, in preventing any riotous proceedings on the one hand, and on the other, in reducing the rates of grain, butter, and other proviſions. And a reverend and benevolent gentleman of that city has actually given directions for purchaſing 100 buſhels of corn on every Saturday, at the market price, and ſelling it out to the poor at 5s. a buſhel; and all farmers and others have been invited by the magiſtrates to bring their grain to the market there, they being determined to exert every legal meaſure in their power to have their property ſecured, and their perſons protected from any inſult.

Graveſend, Sept. 28. The Indian Kings and Queens, who are waiting here for a ſhip, came to church in the morning, attended with a prodigious concourſe of people; among whom was a woman diſordered in her ſenſes, who fixed her eyes ſtedfaſtly upon them, at laſt ſtruck one of the Chiefs three or four times, and terribly ſcratched the face of their Queen, crying out at the ſame inſtant, "You have ſcalped my huſband, you ſcalped my huſband." The poor Lady was ſeized with violent tremblings, and ſaid ſhe thought ſhe was brought there to be ſacrificed; the whole congregation were now alarmed, ſome fancying there was a fire, others that the walls of the church were tumbling down; In ſhort, they all ran out but the miniſter, who ſat down with great compoſure till his audience returned, when he rebuked them for their irreverent behaviour.

KINGSTON, in Jamaica, November 15.

Yeſterday morning was tried, and executed in the afternoon, at Spring-path, a negroe man, with a wooden leg, for attempting to raviſh a white girl of about nine years of age. This was the ſecond time he had attempted her.

Nov. 22. On Sunday laſt the ſhip Abbot, Captain Shaftoe, lying at Auracabeſſa, having all her cargoe on board, and ready to ſail for England, was forced from her moorings, by the violence of the wind, and drove upon the rocks, where ſhe went to pieces, and all the crew, except the chief mate, and one of the ſeamen, periſhed.

WILLIAMSBURG, December 11.

On Monday the 20th of October laſt there fell in Halifax county an amazing ſhower of hail, which was preceded by a great noiſe in the air. Many of the hailſtones were as large as a pint bowl, and one meaſured five inches long an hour after it fell. The cloud aroſe in the north weſt, and had its direction to the ſouth eaſt. The trees are not only ſtript of their leaves, but of their boughs and twigs alſo, and appear more naked than they would have done in the middle of winter. The noiſe which preceded the ſhower, and the ſhower itſelf, which laſted near an hour, were ſo dreadful, that many people began to apprehend the laſt day to be at hand. It killed many fowls, and ſome hogs; and it is ſurpriſing it did not kill even cattle and horſes.

NEW-YORK, December 25.

Extract from the JOURNAL of the General Aſſembly of the Colony of New-York.

Die Lunæ, 3 ho. P.M. the 15th of December, 1766.

The engroſſed Addreſs to his Excellency the Governor, was read and approved of by the Houſe.

Ordered, That Mr. Speaker ſign the ſaid Addreſs in Behalf of the Houſe; which is in the Words following, viz.

To his Excellency Sir HENRY MOORE, Baronet, Captain General and Governor in Chief, in and over the Colony of New-York, and the Territories depending thereon in America, Chancellor, and Vice Admiral of the ſame,

The Humble ADDRESS of the General Aſſembly of the ſaid Colony.

May it pleaſe your Excellency,

WE His Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the General Aſſembly of the Colony of New-York, have taken your Excellency's Meſſage of the 17th of November laſt, into our moſt ſerious Conſideration; and beg Leave to aſſure your Excellency, that nothing would give us greater Pleaſure than to find it in our Power to comply with every Requiſition, tending in any Manner to promote his Majeſty's Service. It is therefore with great Concern, that we find it impoſſible to comply with what is now demanded, conſiſtent with our Obligations to our Conſtituents. We ſhall always be ready to give the ampleſt Teſtimonies of our Loyalty to His Majeſty, and Submiſſion to His Government; from which, we humbly conceive, we do not deviate, when we ſhew a Regard to the Intereſts of His faithful Subjects in this Colony, abſolutely neceſſary to their Preſervation.

We hope it will be conſidered, that we are choſen to make ſuch a Proviſion for the Support of his Majeſty's Government in this Colony (as well as for other important Purpoſes) as is moſt ſuitable to the Circumſtances of the People we repreſent; and that we ſhould be guilty of a Breach of that moſt ſacred Truſt, if we ſhould load them with Burthens they are incapable of ſupporting.

In the Proviſion we made laſt Seſſion, for quartering Two Battalions and One Company of Artillery, we loaded ourſelves with a Burthen much greater than any of the neighbouring Governments lie under for that Service; and imagined that, far from being cenſured on that account, it would be accepted as a new Inſtance of that Loyalty and Affection to His Majeſty's Government, of which this Colony has exhibited ſo many Proofs.

We beg Leave, further to repreſent to your Excellency, that by the Act of Parliament, it appears to be the Intention of the Legiſlature, to provide for the quartering Soldiers, only on a March, but according to the Conſtruction put on it here, it is required that all Forces, which ſhall at any Time enter this Colony, ſhall be quartered during the whole Year, in a very unuſual and expenſive Manner: That by the marching ſeveral Regiments into this Colony, this Expence would become ruinous and inſupportable: And therefore we cannot, conſiſtent with our Duty to our Conſtituents, put it in the Power of any Perſon (whatſoever Confidence we may have in his Prudence and Integrity) to lay ſuch a Burthen on them.

We ſhould be very ſorry to differ with your Excellency on this, or any other political Subject; and therefore it is proper to offer theſe Matters to your Conſideration, in hopes that they will be ſufficient to demonſtrate that the Objections againſt making the Proviſion required, are of a Nature the moſt ſerious and weighty imaginable: And therefore we humbly intreat your Excellency, to ſet our Conduct in the moſt favourable, that is, in its true Light, by repreſenting that our Noncompliance, on this Occaſion, proceeds intirely from a juſt Senſe of what our Duty requires.

By Order of the General Aſſembly,

Aſſembly-Chamber, the 15th December, 1766. W. NICOLL, Speaker.

To which his Excellency was pleaſed to return the following

ANSWER.

Gentlemen of the General Aſſembly,

IT is with no ſmall Concern, that I find the Sentiments of this Houſe differing ſo much from mine, in Regard to the Subject Matter of the Addreſs now preſented to me; which ſhall, by the firſt Opportunity, be tranſmitted to the Secretary of State, in order to be laid before his Majeſty."

Tueſday night, Capt. Pell in a ſloop arrived here in 23 days from St. Croix, at which place he left Capt. Joſeph Lawrence, in a ſloop of this port: By him we learn, that Capt. Cotton, in a ſloop of this place, had been ſeized by a ſmall tender belonging to a Daniſh man of war, at St. John's, for having one hogſhead of ſugar, and a little cotton on board, without proper permits, and carried into St. Croix, where the owner, Mr. David Roſs, of this city, was impriſoned, and put to ſo much trouble, that he died ſoon after, ſuppoſed with grief, and the veſſel and cargo confiſcated.

The Earl of Halifax packet, Capt. Boulderſon, ſailed laſt night with the mail for Falmouth.

Capt. Miller, from Londonderry, on the 2d inſtant, in lat. 36, 39, ſpoke with the ſhip Friendſhip, Capt. Devenwood, from Maryland for London, out 9 days, all well. And on the 17th ſpoke with two ſloops from New-London for Dominica, with horſes on board, but the wind blowing freſh did not learn their names, they had been 5 days out: The ſame day ſaw a brig with jury-maſts ſtanding to the N. E. but could not ſpeak with her.

PHILADELPHIA, January 1.

On Monday next the GENERAL ASSEMBLY of this Province meets here.

Extract of a Letter from the County of Suſſex, in New-Jerſey, dated the 22d of December, 1766.

"The Expectation I had of meeting with People I had Buſineſs with, made it neceſſary for me to attend here from the 18th to the 21ſt Inſtant, and gave me an Opportunity of gratifying my Curioſity, in obſerving the Courſe of criminal Proceedings in this new Country. On the 18th Mr. Juſtice READ came to the Court-houſe, attended by the proper Officers, and publiſhed His Majeſty's Commiſſion of Oyer and Terminer for that County; the Grand Jury were qualified and charged, and Mr. ATTORNEY GENERAL having prepared ſeveral Bills of Indictment, he preferred them to the Grand Jury, who came into Court about Four o'Clock in the Afternoon, and delivered two Bills, one againſt one Robert Seamor, for the Murder of an Indian Man, and another againſt one David Ray, for Manſlaughter. The Priſoners were ſet to the Bar, and arraigned, and pleaded Not Guilty. The Court enquired of them, if they had any Witneſſes in their Favour, and offered them the Aid of the Court, to oblige them to attend the next Day, at which Time they were informed their Trials would be brought on. A Guard of two Conſtables, and twelve Men, were ordered to ſecure the Goal, and to be relieved from time to time by a like Number.

"On the 19th, about Ten o' Clock in the Morning, the Court met, and the Priſoners were ſet to the Bar, when Ray retracted his Plea, and was burnt in the Hand. Then the Court proceeded to the Trial of Seamor, which laſted about three Hours; the Priſoner behaved with great Boldneſs, and challenged ſeveral of the Jury, who were ſet aſide. The Evidence againſt the Priſoner was as follows; from his Behaviour to the Indian before their going from the Houſe together; Seamor's being poſſeſſed of the Indian's Gun and Goods; Proof of his breaking the Back and Legs of the dead Body, and burying of him, were Preſumptions very violent; and ſome Witneſſes were alſo produced, that Seamor had confeſſed to them the Murder, and declared he would deſtroy any Indian that came in his Way. The Evidence was produced by the Attorney General very judiciouſly, and the Court took much Pains to explain to the Jury, with great Clearneſs, the Nature of this Kind of Evidence, and to ſhew the abſolute Certainty ariſing from the Facts, which were proved by undeniable Evidence, and the Priſoner acknowledged at the Bar, that he had the Plunder, but ſaid he had bought them of a Sailor who went to Philadelphia.

"The Jury agreed on their Verdict, and brought Seamor in guilty. The Court-houſe was exceedingly crouded, and the Priſoner remanded to Priſon, who behaved with great Inſolence, and denied the Fact. This Night Twenty-five Militia took Poſt at the Goal.

"On Saturday Morning the Court met, and paſſed Sentence on the Priſoner, and ordered his Execution between Three and Four o'Clock in the Afternoon. The Judge, in his Addreſs to the Prisoner, seemed to calculate his Discourse pretty much to the Audience, by painting the Heinousness of the Crime; the terrible Effect it might have had on the Frontiers, if the Indians had been possessed by the same Spirit of Revenge with the Prisoner's; the Ingratitude of it, as it was well known that the Oneida Nation, to which the murdered Indian belonged, had, during the whole Course of the last War, co-operated with His Majesty's Troops.

"The Prisoner persisted in denying the Fact, and seemed to expect a Rescue; but I did not observe a Murmur among the People, and the most Sensible were fully convinced of the Justice of his Sentence. An Indian, of Note I suppose, as he was of a good Aspect, and wore a Plume of Feathers on his Head, attended the Trial and Execution, and the Court appeared sollicitous for his Protection from Insult, nor did any thing of the Kind happen. I understood great Pains had been taken to procure him to attend.

"At the Time appointed, the Sheriff brought the Prisoner out, and then, for the first Time, he seemed dismayed; for he was encircled by a strong Detachment from the adjacent Companies of Militia. At the Gallows he made a short Prayer, declared that he had lived a dissolute and wicked Life, and was guilty of the Fact for which he was to suffer, and then he was executed.

"The People behaved very orderly, and I heard the Indian who attended the Trial, and saw the Execution, say, that he should pass through several of the Indian Towns, in his Way to Sir WILLIAM JOHNSON, and would report the Justice of his Brethren the English on this Occasion. The Indian was delivered to a Guard, who set off with him immediately, and engaged to see him safe from the Frontiers. Through the whole I saw great good Order and Regularity."

Captain Carr, from Bristol, on the 18th of October, in Lat. 50: 30, Long. 17, spoke the Brig Jupiter, Captain Hathorne, from Barbados for Belfast, seven Weeks out, who informed him, that off the Western Islands he had spoke with a homeward bound East-Indiaman, under Jury-masts, in great Distress for Want of Provisions, which he supplied him with.----Nov. 21, in Lat. 38: 30, Long. 52, he spoke the Ship Romeo, Captain Pentrough, from Boston for the West-Indies, 17 Days out.----30th, in Lat. 37: 23, Long. 63, spoke a Snow, Captain Chiswell, from South-Carolina for Falmouth, out 11 Days, with several other Vessels in Company from the same Place.----And on the 16th of December, in Lat. 38, Long. 73: 30, he spoke a Sloop, Captain Salston, from New-London for the Grenades, out three Days, all well.

Saturday last Captain M'Cay arrived here from Killibegs, having been twelve Weeks on his Passage; about two Weeks after he sailed, his Vessel sprung a Leak, which obliged him to keep one Pump constantly going till he arrived here.----On the 20th of October, in Lat. 44, he spoke the Ship Jupiter, from Londonderry for New-York.---Nov. 30, in Lat. 37: 10, he spoke a Brig from Newberry for the West-Indies. And on Thursday last he spoke the Ship Philadelphia, Captain M'Cutchon, from this Port for Belfast, just without our Capes.

Captain Cragg, from Whitehaven, on the 16th ult. in Lat. 36: 30, Long. 74, spoke a Sloop from Martinico for Rhode-Island; and the next Day he spoke a Sloop from New-London for Barbados, out three Days, all well, but could not learn the Masters Names.

For the Entertainment of the CURIOUS,

MR. KINNERSLEY proposes to exhibit, at the College, in this City, To-morrow and Saturday, and again on Monday and Tuesday, next Week, A COURSE of ELECTRICAL EXPERIMENTS, divided into two Lectures; in which more of the Nature and Properties of Lightning will be shewn, than was ever known in the World, till lately.

It is hoped that, from the Conviction which will arise from those Experiments, still more of our Fellow Citizens will be induced to embrace the Benefit which Providence seems to have kindly intended us, in the happy Discovery of the Means whereby Houses, Ships, &c. may effectually be secured from receiving Damage by Lightning: The Truth whereof has been abundantly verified, in the actual Preservation of a House struck by Lightning in this City.

Those Ladies and Gentlemen who shall please to countenance such an Entertainment as this, may moreover have the Pleasure of seeing some curious Experiments made with the Air Pump; also an Experiment, which shows a remarkable Difference in the Weight of the Atmosphere, even in the Heighth of only 3 or 4 Feet; and another, which proves that Water may be pressed into less Space than it naturally occupies; notwithstanding the contrary has been the prevailing Opinion, ever since the famous Florentine Experiment of the Golden Ball.

The Lecture to begin each Day precisely at 11 o' Clock. Tickets to be had at Mr. Kinnersley's House, near the College; Price Half a Dollar for each Lecture. All who design to attend, are desired to be furnished with Tickets, that no Money may be given at the Door. If the Weather should prove wet on the Days appointed for these Lectures, they will be deferred till the first dry Days after. †

ALL Persons that have any Demands against the Estate of Benjamin Price, late of Philadelphia, Attorney at Law, deceased, are desired to bring in their Accounts to his Executors, that they may be adjusted and paid; and all Persons indebted to the said Estate, are desired to discharge the same, to enable the Executors to pay off the Debts and Legacies, otherwise they must expect to be sued for the same, without further Notice.

WHEREAS sundry reputable Merchants, of this City, have issued Notes, payable to the Bearer, with Interest of Five per Cent. per Annum, for Nine Months, at which Time said Interest is to cease, some of which Notes they have already passed in Lieu of Money. As this Example may be followed by others, and as the Practice has been by Experience found, in other Provinces, to be prejudicial to Trade, and we conceive has a Tendency to depreciate our Paper Money; we therefore do hereby declare we will not take any Notes thus issued for any Payment whatever. The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

From the LONDON MAGAZINE.

A juſt Satire on MODERN EXTRAVAGANCE and COXCOMBS.

To the AUTHOR, &c.

GOOD SIR,

I AM an old man, and little uſed to writing, but Sir, as I ſee you are ſo obliging to others as to communicate their ſentiments and complaints to the world, I dare ſay you will mine.

I was many years reſident in London; but an old uncle, in the year 1729, dying, and leaving me a tolerable eſtate in Glouceſterſhire, I preferred eaſe to affluence, and retired from noiſe and buſtle, to peace and quiet.

Among my friends in town was one Mr. Holland, a draper, in Cheapſide: He was a good, honeſt, pains-taking man; if you dined with him, a joint of meat, and a pudding, was the utmoſt of his entertainment; I never ſaw wine in his houſe but at Chriſtmas, or on a wedding-day; we had a glaſs of good ale, and after dinner we went to our buſineſs, and did not ſit three or four hours, as you do now. He wore his cap the greateſt part of the day, and wan't aſhamed to take the broom and the ſcraper, and clean before his door. He had a good underſtanding, and was honeſt to a degree of admiration: I fear I ſhall never ſee his like again; he is dead, poor man, died in July 1750, leaving ten thouſand ſeven hundred pounds, all got by care and induſtry, between ſeven children, ſhare and ſhare alike.

Buſineſs, ſir, calling me to town this ſpring (my daughter's marriage, good ſir, if you muſt know) I reſolved to enquire after my old friend's family. He had three ſons: The eldeſt I found was ruined by horſe racing, and went to ſettle at Liſbon; the next, Tom by name, became a bankrupt in ſixty, by vice and extravagance, and went to America, where we muſt all go ſoon, at leaſt the younger part of us. I got a direction for Jack, a haberdaſher near the Change; I trudged to ſee him laſt Wedneſday morning; I aſked for Mr. John Holland, and, to my very great ſurprize, was introduced to a gentleman as fine as my Lord Cockatoo, and his hair dreſſed as high, and powdered as white; I begged pardon, and told him, I ſuppoſed the man had made a miſtake; on which he, recollecting me, called me by name, and run acroſs the room, and kiſſed me (the devil take his French faſhions) he expreſſed great joy, indeed, at ſeeing me, and inſiſted on my dining with him at his houſe in the country; "my coach, ſaid he, will be at the door directly; Miſs Pattypan and her papa, the great city cook, will favour us with their company, and you ſhall make one." Not being engaged, curioſity induced me to take the ſpare corner of the coach, and go with them into the country, as they called it; that is, to Highgate. I will not trouble you with all the particulars of our journey and dinner, but only tell you, that it cut me to the heart to ſee my friend's ſon ſo great a contraſt to his father. On the road they entertained me with all that paſſed in public; they all belonged, I underſtood, to the city concert, and the aſſembly; never failed at Mrs. Thing-a-my's in Soho-ſquare; had been at two ridottos this winter; loved the opera; and Miſs Pattypan ſung us an Italian air; an impudent minx! I could have knocked her empty pate againſt her father's jolter! When we arrived, we were introduced to madam Holland; how ſhe was dreſſed in jewels and gold! and then her hair curled ſix inches from her head (God forgive me if I am miſtaken, but I believe it was a wig.) Then, when the dinner came in, how was I amazed to ſee the table covered with ſeven diſhes, and more ſo, when I was told there was a ſecond courſe! The turbot coſt 18s. the turkey polts 14s. madam told us, for ſhe gloried in her ſhame.

I beg pardon, ſir, for having detained you thus long with ſuch trifles, but you know old people will be prating. What I meant to tell you was our diſcourſe after dinner. As I came from the country, Mr. Holland, and Mr. Pattypan attacked me on the high price of proviſions: "An't it a ſhame (ſays Mr. Holland) that we, poor Londoners, ſhould be paying ſuch extravagant prices, when we live in a land of plenty; poultry, meat, and butter, double the price they were twenty years ago; oats 20s. a quarter, hay 3l. 10s. it coſts me more in one month, than it did my father in a year. I ſhall, inſtead of ſaving ten thouſand pounds, be obliged to run away, if ſomething an't done to reduce the price of proviſions." My blood boiled with indignation; I haſtily replied, "Whether ſomething is done, or not, Mr. Holland, you muſt run away if you live thus; don't name your poor father, his table would have been furniſhed for a week for the money your turbot coſt: Proviſions were leſs, you ſay, by a half in your father's time, but why were they ſo? Becauſe people lived with more frugality, and the conſumption was leſs: A city haberdaſher, in thoſe days, would have thought he had entertained his friends nobly with a piece of beef and potatoes in the pan; but I ſee fourteen diſhes, in theſe luxurious times, are ſcarcely ſufficient: If your father, even in thoſe cheaper times, had furniſhed his table like the prodigals of the preſent, he muſt, inſtead of leaving ten thouſand pounds, have lived and died a beggar; your father had no country houſe; he had a ſaying, that,

Thoſe who do two houſes keep,
Muſt often wake when others ſleep.

Though the verſe is not extraordinary, the moral is good; he had no coach, therefore the price of oats or hay hurt not him; he neither ſubſcribed to, nor idled his time at public aſſemblies; I may ſay to you as the friend in Dan Prior ſays to the fat man, you are making the very evil you complain of. In my younger days there wan't a ſhopkeeper in London kept his coach; now ſcarce one is to be found who condeſcends to walk, and not only ſhop-keepers, but whores, dancing-maſters and fidlers, have their equipages; you uſe an hundred times as much butter as was uſed formerly, with your ſauces, fricaſſees, and tea; your vanity employs five hundred times the horſes; you confound more of God's good creatures at one dinner, than would have feaſted your anceſtors for a month, and yet pretend to be amazed that things are not ſo plentiful as they were: The ſame ground can't keep cows, grow oats, breed cattle, produce hay, paſture your horſes, and ſupply you with grain; the conſequence of which is, you fetch your luxuries at great expence from ſeventy miles diſtance; whereas in our time, ten miles round London ſupplied the town with all neceſſaries." I was going on, when Mr. Pattypan yawn'd, and ſaid, "he did not come here for a lecture;" and before I could anſwer him, Mr. Jackanapes, the haberdaſher, ſaid, "Let's take a turn in the garden, and leave old ſquare-toes to ſwallow his ſpittle." I here grew too angry to ſtay with the empty coxcombs; I took up my hat and cane, and marched to the door; when the paſtry cook called out, "You had better go back in Mr. Holland's coach, for it is too late to walk, and it will break your frugal heart to ſpend a ſhilling for a place in the ſtage." (Says I) "No, Mr. Puff-paſte, though I am an enemy to profuſion, I ſpend my money as chearfully as any body, when my convenience requires it. Though I can't live at the expence of either of you, I believe I have eſtate enough to buy all the pyes and tapes in your two ſhops. I mean to live, and give my children ſomething at my death, but you can't ſupport your profuſion long, you'll be bankrupts ſoon, and cheat your creditors out of nineteen ſhillings in the pound. You'll live to feaſt on gravy beef inſtead of having ſauces, and at laſt die in a goal, or feed hogs, and eat the huſks, like your brother prodigal in the Goſpel." Here I flounced out of the room, and ſo ended our ſcolding. I am, Sir, your, &c.

PETER MODERATION.

From a late LONDON CHRONICLE.

ANECDOTE.

SOME time ſince a venerable old man, who had paſſed all the offices in one of the chief towns in Holland, with honour and reputation, and had gained great riches, without reproach, had ſome thoughts of retiring, for the reſt of his days, to his country ſeat. In order to take leave of his friends and acquaintance in a handſome manner, he invited the young and old of both ſexes (thoſe of the beſt faſhion in the place) to an entertainment at his own houſe. They met together with great expectations; but, to their no ſmall ſurprize, ſaw a long oak table, hardly covered with a ſcanty blue cloth, on which were alternately placed platters of butter-milk, ſour crude, pickled herrings, and cheeſe. The reſt of the cheer was made up with butter and rye bread, and cans of ſmall beer were at hand for thoſe who had a mind to drink; trenchers ſerved inſtead of plates, and not a ſingle ſervant attended. The company ſecretly curſed the old man's humour; but in regard to his great age, and ſtill greater merit, they bridled their reſentment, and ſeemed content with their homely fare. The old gentleman ſeeing the joke take, was unwilling to carry it too far, and, at a ſignal given, two clean booriſh maids, in their country garb, ſhifted the table, and brought in the ſecond courſe; the blue cloth was changed for white linen, the trenchers for pewter, the rye bread to houſhold brown, the ſmall into ſtrong ale, and the mean food into good ſalted beef, and boiled fiſh. The gueſts grew better pleaſed, and the maſter of the feaſt more preſſing in his invitations. After he had given them time to taſte of the ſecond courſe, a third was ſerved up by a maitre d'hotel in form, followed by half a dozen powdered lacquies, in gawdy liveries; the moſt beautiful flowered damaſk was ſpread on a ſumptuous mahogany table; the richeſt plate, and moſt curious china, adorned the ſide-board, whilſt a profuſion of ſoups, olios, tame and wild fowl, fricaſſees, ragouts, in a word, all that the art of a modern French Cook could produce, ranged in a well-diſpoſed judicious order, ſeemed to court the taſte, and renew the appetite of the whole company; to this were added ſtrong-bodied chateau-mergen, generous burgundy, ſparkling champaign; in ſhort, a choice of the beſt wines commerce can procure to a trading country: And that nothing might be wanting that could pleaſe the ſenſes, as ſoon as a ſumptuous deſert was brought in, a melodious concert, of an agreeable variety of inſtruments, was heard in the next room; healths went round, mirth increaſed, and the old man, ſeeing nothing but the departure of him, and of the graveſt of the company, was waited for to give a looſe to joy and pleaſure, roſe up, and made the following ſpeech: 'Ladies and gentlemen, I heartily thank you 'for this favour; it is time for one of my age to withdraw; but 'I hope thoſe who are diſpoſed for dancing, will accept of a ball 'which I have ordered to be prepared for you. Before the fid-'dles ſtrike up, give me leave to make a ſhort reflection on this 'entertainment, which otherwiſe would appear whimſical, and 'the effect of humour; it may ſerve to give you an idea of our 'commonwealth. By living after that penurious manner, exhibited in the firſt courſe, our anceſtors raiſed their infant ſtate, 'and acquired liberty, wealth and power. Theſe were preſerved 'by our fathers, who lived in that handſome, but plain way, 'you have ſeen in the ſecond courſe; but if an old man may be 'permitted, before he leaves you whom he dearly loves, to ſpeak 'his thoughts freely, I am indeed afraid, that that extravagant 'plenty you have obſerved in the laſt courſe, will, if we go on, 'deprive us of thoſe advantages that our anceſtors have earned by 'the ſweat of their brows, and that our fathers, by their induſtry 'and good management, have tranſmitted to us. Young people! 'I adviſe you to be merry this evening, but to think ſeriouſly to-'morrow what I have been telling you to-day. Good night.'

LONDON.

Oct. 2. They write from Gloucester, that the Earl of Berkeley had been indefatigable in endeavouring to appease the tumults which lately happened in that county, and in administering relief to the poor, and to those who had suffered by the rioters; and that tranquility began to take place again.

Letters from Salisbury mention, that the mob having found in Bradley mill, in that county, flour, corn, ground chalk, lime, and horse beans, it so exasperated them, that after destroying it all, they vowed revenge against all bolting mills, as at them were always mixed the bad ingredients, and the mob accordingly destroyed seven or eight more.

A letter from Coventry, dated Sept. 28, says, "There was great rioting here on Friday last, by the Colliers from the neighbouring pits, and the town's people, who readily joined them. They took a waggon load of cheese out of one of the storehouses, to the market-cross, and began to sell it by weight, but that was soon over; so they sold large cheeses for 2s. 1s. 6d. and 1s. per cheese; but that also soon ceased; for the mob took it without money or price: They carried a cart load of cheese away, and only carried the owner three shillings back for it. It was all disposed of at the open cross. There were more waggon loads of wheat at the cross, on that day, than ever I saw at any one time there before, and oats also, though very dear, for I gave 10s. for one bag of Poland oats."

The last letters from Newfoundland mention, that the success of the English cod fishery bears no proportion this season to that of the French, nor are our vessels half so numerous on the banks.

Oct. 4. We hear from Suffolk, that many of the farmers, in the neighbourhood of Ipswich, have come to an agreement to supply the poor of their respective parishes with the best wheat at 4s. 6d. a bushel.

One day this week, a man went to his master, and told him, that he was troubled in mind, on account that he and three men, and one woman, were concerned in robbing and murdering a woman in the Deptford Road, about three months ago, and desired his master to go with him to a magistrate, before whom he gave information of the three men and the woman, and where they were to be found. On Thursday the woman was taken in the Holloway Road, and confessed the fact; and at night one of the men, who was the driver of a brick cart at Shoreditch, was taken out of his master's hay-loft, on which he wrung his hands, wept bitterly, and also confessed the fact; the two latter were sent to New Prison, and the former to Bridewell, for further examination.

Yesterday evening the bells belonging to the several parishes of Westminster were rung, on account of the Earl of Northumberland's being created a Duke.

They write from Senegal, that there have been lately upwards of two hundred French trading ships on the coast of Africa;---which was a principal cause of the price of slaves being so high, the Goree merchants having contracted to supply the Spanish West India settlements with negroes.

Oct. 7. Letters by Friday's post from Edinburgh inform us, that the harvest in the North of Scotland, particularly Orkney, is completely got in; and that so fine and plentiful a one has not been remembered there upwards of thirty years.

Last week as a simple countryman was passing through Catherine-street, in the Strand, he was decoyed by a lewd female sharper, into one of the infernal stews, with which that nursery of vice abounds. After being ply'd with liquor till he grew dead drunk, he had his pockets picked of five guineas, being all the money he had.

It is now said, there will be some further alterations in the law; that Sir Thomas Sewell, Master of the Rolls, will succeed Lord Bowes as Lord Chancellor of Ireland, who, on account of his age, is to resign; that Sir Eardly Wilmot will be appointed Master of the Rolls, and Sir Fletcher Norton succeed him as Lord Chief Justice of the Common Pleas; and Richard Clayton, Esq; Chief Justice of the Common Pleas in Ireland, will be appointed one of the Judges of the King's Bench, in the room of Sir Eardly Wilmot.

We are informed, that in a field at Felton Park, in Northumberland, there was cut very lately, a cabbage, cultivated by the horsehoeing Husbandry, which weighed 4st. 4lb. 7 oz. and that there are several now growing in the same field, judged to be near the same weight.

In the spring a potatoe was set in a garden at Morpeth, which produced 120; most of them weighed upwards of half a pound, and none less than a quarter.

Oct. 9. Letters from Bradford, in Wiltshire, mention, that the riots in those parts have ceased since the arrival of the dragoons from Blandford, and that twenty of the ringleaders have been apprehended. The rioters there amounted to about three hundred, and consisted of the most dissolute and idle fellows of all the adjacent parishes, persons who had either no families, or run away from them, and whose whole conduct shewed, that want of liquor was more their grievance than the dearness of provision. The Gentlemen of the parish of Bradford have for some time past employed Bakers to supply the poor there with good bread at a penny per pound, and have raised a considerable sum of money among themselves, to defray the loss occasioned thereby, which measure has proved a very great relief to the industrious poor of that neighbourhood.

On Monday last the new Hector Indiaman, Captain Williams, fell down the river from Blackwall, bound for Madeira and Bombay. The said ship carries dispatches of the greatest consequence for the Right Hon. Lord Clive.

We are informed, the two last packets from Holland brought over considerable sums of money to be vested in our funds.

Oct. 11. We hear from Cromartie, in Scotland, that one Price Campbell, a Fisherman, is now living there, in the 117th year of his age, and still goes to sea in his own boat.

A few days since died, at Ripley, in Yorkshire, aged 102, Richard Matthewman, Esq; by whose death an estate of 500*l. per ann. and* 10,000*l. in cash, devolves to his grand nephew, Mr. William Matthewman, a journeyman upholsterer, near Soho-Square, who is gone down into Yorkshire to take possession of the same.*

Extract of a Letter from on board the Duncannon Packet, arrived at Falmouth.

"On the 31*st of August, about the latitude of Pico, one of the Western-islands, and about* 240 leagues to the westward of it, we fell in with a ship, the York, Peter Berton, master, bound for New-York, the master of which informed us, that two days before, he fell in company with a brigantine bound to Charles-Town, South-Carolina, who some days before that, fell in with a squadron of Algerines, consisting of a frigate Commodore, two half gallies, and one whole galley, cruizing off the western islands; one of their boats boarded the brig, and upon finding the master had a proper pass, they suffered him to go, but not without plundering his vessel; and on his remonstrating against it, the barbarians were so offended, as to consult amongst themselves if they should not murder him, but he pleading strongly for mercy, they permitted him ta depart with his vessel."

October 14. On Wednesday last a mob of rioters attacked Mr. Davenport's waggon, about two miles on this side of Nottingham, and took out all the butter and cheese, destined for the London markets, and carried it away in triumph.

On Thursday last the people of several villages near St. Alban's sent word to the townsmen, that they intended to pay them a visit the next day, being the fair; on which the Mayor and Aldermen ordered the Militia to be raised, to the number of 500, with 24 rounds of powder each man, and to do duty till the fair was over, which salutary precaution kept all things quiet.

A letter from Galam, on the coast of Africa, says, that never was money known so scarce, or slaves so dear, as at present, most of the stores being full of goods, and little or no market for them, unless to a disadvantage.

A French bark belonging to Martinico, has been cut off on the Gold coast of Africa, by an insurrection of the slaves.

On the 26th of last month died at Blois in France, where she had resided with her family for some years, the wife of Mr. Thomas Sheridan; a Lady well known to the world by the History of Miss Sidney Biddulph, and several other excellent productions of her pen, which have all a moral and benevolent tendency. Nor was she less distinguished by the unaffected purity of her manners, than by the uncommon strength of her genius; for she was an affectionate wife, a tender mother, and a sincere friend.---The loss to her family is therefore irreparable.

October 16. His Danish Majesty has issued an edict, dated the 11th last, by which all his subjects are strictly forbid to embrace the Roman Catholic Religion, and the Jesuits to remain in his Majesty's territories.

Letters from Berlin bring advice of a dreadful fire at Schwanebeck, near Halberstadt, on the 24th ult. when one half of the town was reduced to ashes.

A letter from Coventry, says, "Four men, dressed like bargemen, went to the Mayor of Stratford upon Avon, and told him there was a very large mob near at hand, but that they believed they could prevent their entering the town, if they would immediately raise them a small sum to drink, &c. His Worship gave them half a guinea, and they collected several smaller sums, to the amount of about ten pounds, with which they marched off, and have not since been heard of, or any mob having ever been near the place."

A letter from Rochester, dated October 10, says, that the country around that city is over-run with engrossers and forestallers; in particular that one of those gentry lately bought up there a thousand quarters of corn in one week, besides the whole growths of wheat of three other farmers, not one quarter of which was ever brought to market.

Advice was received yesterday, that a Spanish Register-Ship is lost on her passage home, having a very large cargo of indigo and other valuable goods on board.

A letter from Ratisbon, dated the 22d ult. says, "We see here, the declarations which the States of Wurtenburg gave the 16th and 17th of June last, in answer to the propositions which the Duke had made them, the second of the same month. It is much to be feared, that if their differences are not soon accommodated, an imperial commission will decide them by a formal judgment; which will load one of the two parties with very heavy expences."

Edinburgh, Oct. 6. We hear from Rossshire, that they have this year the greatest crop of all kinds of grain that has been known there in the memory of man; and that their corns were got safe in, and in excellent order, a fortnight ago. We have the like agreeable accounts from Bamff; and that all the corns in the country are already got in.

Nottingham, Oct. 2. Our great annual cheese fair began this day; when the factors bought considerable quantities, and not having opportunity or time to remove the cheese, had collected it together in an heap, to be watched all night, as is customary; when the mob, offended at their buying so briskly the first day, seized all the factors cheese, notwithstanding the most strenuous endeavours of the magistrates and constables, who surrounded the cheese, read the proclamation against riots, and did every thing in their power to prevent it. When it was all stolen, or dispersed, they distributed, and left the farmers cheese undisturbed, and all was quiet before ten at night.

Norwich, Oct. 1. Edward Bacon, Esq; one of our Representatives in Parliament, has given notice, that he has ordered his tenants to supply the poor with wheat at 4s. per bushel; and we hope this worthy example will be followed by other gentlemen of fortune.

Reading, Oct. 4. On Wednesday last a riotous mob, consisting of between 30 and 40 persons, many of them lusty young fellows, well able to earn their livelihood, after having been at several gentlemen and farmers houses in the neighbourhood, and extorted money and provisions by terror and threats, came to Maidenhead in the afternoon, where they committed several outrages, and ill treated such persons as would not comply with their unjust demands; about eight in the evening, supposing, but without just foundation, that one of their party was confined, they forced open the door of a house where several persons were peaceably sitting, and immediately fell on them with clubs and bludgeons, but by a proper exertion of the civil authority, they were soon overpowered, and ten of them secured. Some circumstances appearing in favour of three of them, they were upon promise of better behaviour discharged, and seven of the most notorious are committed to our goal.

Several gentlemen and principal land owners in different parts of this county, have ordered their wheat to be threshed out, and sold at 5s. a bushel.

To such a height has the dearness of provisions inflamed the minds of the poor, that we have received accounts of riots amongst them from every part: On Thursday last they were at Wallingford, where they entered the bakers and chandlers shops, and disposed of bread, butter, cheese, and bacon, at their own prices. At Thame, and other neighbouring places, they have acted in the same manner. At Henley they assembled with the same intention, but the riot act being read to them, by the prudence of the Mayor and Aldermen, they were soon dispersed. From Wycombe, and other places in Buckinghamshire, we have received the same accounts; and Aylesbury was threatened to be visited yesterday. We are happy in not having yet being visited by these gentry; and, as the military power is called in to our assistance, we hope that will prevent any visit they might have intended.

Derby, Oct. 9. This morning a party of our light-horse (about 15) set off for Cavendish Bridge, attended by Justice Thornhill of Darley, and Dr. Taylor of Ashborn: On their arrival at Shardlow, they were informed that a number of the rioters were then at a warehouse (late Mr. Drake's) into which they had got entrance, but on the soldiers approach soon surrendered, and 34 of them have been brought in a carriage pinioned, to our goal, which has greatly exasperated the mob, who insulted the magistrates, 'till they were obliged to read the riot act, and the soldiers are now driving with sword in hand all such as have not dispersed.

The officer who commanded, I am informed, has been terribly wounded by stones, &c. thrown by the mob, and some of the soldiers, two of whom, now at my door, bleed shockingly. I have just been out, and find very few remaining, but am afraid we shall have a dreadful night. Yesterday a body of the rioters attacked a boat on the Darwent, from which they took cheese to the amount of 300l. and were then in pursuit of another equally valuable. It would be impossible to keep the mob in any bounds, but from the fear they shew to the military.

Chippenham, Oct. 9. A gentleman of fortune in this neighbourhood sent into our market of Saturday last a quantity of wheat, and ordered it to be sold at 5*s. a bushel. The same gentleman has warned out one of his tenants for being a jobber in cattle, &c. and is determined that no person concerned in jobbing cattle, corn, cheese, &c. shall rent any part of his estate.*

NEW-YORK, December 29.

Yesterday a spirited Sermon was delivered with great Energy, by the Reverend JOSEPH TREAT, at the Presbyterian Meeting in this City, for the Benefit of the Poor in their Hardships the approaching Season; when a most generous Collection was made. He advanced from the following Words, as the last Clause of the 8th Verse of the XIIth Chapter of the Romans, viz.---He that sheweth Mercy with Chearfulness.

Captain Banks arrived here on Thursday last in 22 Days from Pensacola; and the Intelligence by this Vessel is, That the Creek Indians, who have for many Years committed Murders on the English, and never could be brought to give Satisfaction; have lately, for the Murder of two Englishmen, been threatened by Brigadier Taylor in a most spirited Manner, should the Criminals not be brought to Justice: In this he was soon gratified by Sixty of their Deputies waiting on him the latter End of last Month, at Pensacola, with White Evidence to prove they had cut off the Murderers; and to give Assurance of their future good Behaviour. This is the First Instance that numerous and haughty People have given of their Dependance on the English.

The Schooner Rachel was to sail for Philadelphia, a few Days after Captain Banks.

A Spanish Register Ship from La Vera Cruz for New Orleans, was lately cast away at the Mouth of the River Mississippi, with a great Quantity of Dollars on board, which were all saved, with the whole crew.

Captain M'Clure, in 11 Weeks from Londonderry, spoke with the following Vessels on his Passage, viz. The 20th of October, in Lat. 55, with the Ship Falls, Captain Robinson, from Londonderry for Halifax, with Passengers; the 28th of November, in Lat. 37: 11, Long. 59: 1, with the Ship Charming Nelly, from Jamaica for London, 11 Weeks out; the Day following with the Ship York, Captain Berton, from this Port for London; and the 22d Instant, with Captain Doubler, from Monto-Christo, for Boston, who on the 17th before, fell in with Captain Fowler, in a Brig from Falmouth for this Port, in great Distress, having lost his Main-Mast, was without any Provisions on board, having met with extreme hard Gales of Wind, and was reduced to such Extremities as to be obliged to eat a Shark without cooking, that Providence sent in their Way; Captain Doubler generously divided his Stock with Captain Fowler, the whole being no more than a Barrel of Flour, and another of Pork.

Saturday Noon, in a hard Squall, an Elizabeth-Town Boat, in going up the Kills, took in such a Quantity of Water of a sudden, that a Woman and two Children in the Hold were drowned before any Assistance could get to them; the Boatman and Capt. Lawrence with Difficulty saved their Lives.

A Sloop from Philadelphia, is arrived at Pensacola.

Saturday last sailed for Pensacola, his Majesty's Frigate Cygnet, Captain Durell; in which Ship went Passengers, Brigadier General Haldiman, Captain Marsh, of the 46th; and Lieutenant Hutcheson, of the 60th.

PHILADELPHIA, January 8.

To-morrow Night a Charity Sermon will be preached at St. Paul's Church, by the Reverend Mr. ALKIN, when a Collection will be made, for the Relief of the poor Prisoners now in the Goal of this City, who are in a most miserable Condition in this inclement Season, for the Want of necessary Food, Cloathing, &c.

On Sunday next, the 11th Instant, Charity Sermons will be preached at Christ-Church and St. Peter's, both Forenoon and Afternoon, for the Benefit of the poor Prisoners confined in the Goal of this City, and other poor and distressed Persons, and the Collection will be made at the same time in the Churches.

On Tuesday last departed this Life, in the Seventy-fourth Year of his Age, SEPTIMUS ROBINSON Esq; born in this City, formerly a Representative in Assembly, several Times elected High-Sheriff of this County, many Years one of the Justices of the Common Pleas, a Member of the Corporation, and by them chosen an Alderman of this City.---A sincere Friend, an HONEST MAN!

Yesterday Morning died ESTHER WEED, Matron of the Pennsylvania Hospital, who, for near seven Years past, hath discharged the Duty of her Station, in so conscientious and careful a Manner, as to give great Satisfaction to the Managers, Physicians, and all others concerned for the Prosperity and Usefulness of the Institution; to whom it will be acceptable to hear of another of the same Christian Tenderness to the Diseased and Distressed, capable and willing to succeed her.

The Brig Abigail, Captain Montgomery, from Coracoa, is arrived at Reedy-Island. By a Gentleman who came Passenger, we are informed, that Captain Elder, in a Brig from New-York, is arrived there; and that Captain Waldron, also in a Brig from

New-York, arrived there, and had ſailed again for the Bay of Honduras: That Captain Montgomery left Coracoa the 15th of November, in Company with Captain Lightburne, for South-Carolina: That in Lat. 34, Long. 70, he ſpoke a double Deck Schooner, Captain Darrell, 33 Days out from Turks Iſland, bound to Charleſtown, who had been beating for ſome Time, but could not get into that Port, and three days before had bore away for Bermuda: And that on his Paſſage he had the Misfortune to carry away the Head of his Mainmaſt, by which Accident two Men who were in the Top, in order to ſtrike the Topmaſt, fell with the ſame on the Deck, one of whom had his Scull, both his Legs, and one of his Arms, broke, and died inſtantly; the other was very much bruiſed and hurt, but is likely to recover.

By Captain Rogers, from Madeira, we learn that on the 10th of November, a Snow, Captain Waldron, belonging to London, and bound to Liſbon from that Iſland, parted her Cables in a Gale of Wind, drove on the Rocks, and was entirely loſt; the People all ſaved, except one Lad, who was drowned.----On the 26th ult. about 12 Leagues to the Eaſtward of Cape May, he ſpoke a black ſingle Deck Schooner, with a Round-houſe, and red painted Ports, from St. Croix for New-York, but did not learn the Maſter's name.

Captain Hazelwood, from St Chriſtophers, informs, that a ſmall Sloop, belonging to York Town, in Virginia, arrived at Baſſeterre about the 23d of November.

On Friday Morning laſt, Mary M'Nalley, the Wife of Arthur M'Nalley, in the Northern Liberties, near the Barracks, was found dead in her Bed; and on the Coroner's Jury viewing the Body, they found ſhe came by her Death, by a Wound ſhe received on the Back of her Head, which broke her Scull.----Her Huſband, Mary Mackey, and Elizabeth Morgan, were in the Houſe at the Time the dead Body was found, and were all committed to Goal.

Arrived at Barbados from this Port, Captain Stiles, in a Brig; alſo a Schooner, the Maſter's Name not known.

From the very great and unexpected Thaw ſince Saturday laſt, our River is now pretty clear of Ice; and the Veſſels at Reedy-Iſland, are ſoon expected up.

From the Country we learn, the Freſhes have been ſo great, that the Roads, in many Places, were impaſſable; and it is feared a great deal of Damage is done to the Mills, Bridges, &c.

And we hear that on Monday Night, at the Middle Ferry on Schuylkill, the Ice carried away all the Boats, broke the Ropes, tore the Wharff, and did other conſiderable Damage, ſome of the Out-houſes being waſhed away by the Water overflowing the Banks.

To the Printers of the PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

THE Table of the Weather, herewith ſent you, may be amuſing to thoſe Perſons who are not furniſhed with a Thermometer, and uſeful to your Philoſophical Readers. It ſhews a Change, in about four Days, from the greateſt natural Cold ever known, that is, 2 Deg. and an Half below 0, to a Degree of Heat equal to Half the greateſt Summer Heats known in this Climate; therefore you may inſert it in your Gazette if you think proper. I am Yours, &c.

* The Thermometer was put out about Bed-time of the Firſt Inſtant, and continued out until the Morning of the Second about Seven o'Clock; at that Time it was 2 Deg. and an Half below 0, on Farenheit's Scale. It was then removed into an Entry opening to the South, and which is kept ſo continually in the Day-time, and in Half an Hour it had riſen 7 Degrees and an Half. It was in this Entry where the Obſervations were made which are inſerted in the Table above; from whence we may conclude, that the Mercury would have been 1 Degree and an Half, or more, below 0, on the Firſt Inſtant in the Morning, if it had been properly expoſed out of Doors, which a Thermometer ought to be to determine fairly the greateſt Degree of Cold; for I obſerved every other Morning, that the Mercury fell 2 Degrees and an Half, or more, after opening the Entry Door, and that in a very ſhort Time.

N. B. The Thermometer which the above Obſervations were made with, is graduated with great Accuracy by a Standard One at Greenwich Obſervatory, in England; the Scale is continued 30 Degrees below 0, which all ought to be, that are for this Climate.

PROPOSALS for printing by Subſcription, in four Pages, large Folio, on a beautiful Letter, and good Paper,

The PENNSYLVANIA CHRONICLE,
And UNIVERSAL ADVERTISER.

The firſt Number to be given GRATIS.

THE Subſcriber begs leave to inform the PUBLIC, That on the invitation and encouragement of ſeveral gentlemen of reputation, he has removed to the city of Philadelphia, from Providence, in the colony of Rhode-Iſland, where he has for ſome years paſt publiſhed a weekly paper, to general ſatisfaction, which is ſtill carried on under the ſuperintendance of one of his family; brought with him an elegant aſſortment of the neweſt types, and other printing materials, completed by the moſt ingenious artiſts; and taken a houſe near the Poſt-Office, where he has every thing in the beſt order, to enable him to execute the above deſign with the greateſt exactneſs.

And as it is his firm reſolution to act, in the courſe of his publications, with the ſtricteſt SECRECY, greateſt FREEDOM, and utmoſt IMPARTIALITY, and to form his paper on as extenſive and univerſal principles as any other on the continent (without intending to derogate, in the leaſt, from the merit of any) he flatters himſelf, he ſhall not fail of meeting with that encouragement, which his endeavours, or experience, ſhall be found to merit, from a generous and candid people; and more than this, he neither expects or deſires.

He intends to give his readers a weekly relation of the moſt remarkable and important occurrences, foreign and domeſtic, collected from the beſt magazines and papers in Europe and America, as well as from other ſources, having a particular regard to ſuch matters as ſhall moſt intimately relate to the welfare of the Colonies.----To communicate advertiſements of every kind, the arrival and departure of ſhips, all intereſting marine intelligence, the prices of the ſtaple commodities of this province, every remarkable event, ſtriking anecdote, extraordinary phænomenon, accident, curious invention, improvement in agriculture, with ſuch ingenious obſervations, as he conceives may tend to the improvement, inſtruction, and entertainment of the PUBLIC, which he engages to uſe his utmoſt induſtry in ſelecting and procuring.---Nor ſhall a place be wanting for the judicious remarks, pieces of wit and humour, eſſays moral, political, geographical, hiſtorical, and poetical, of the learned and ingenious, in this and the neighbouring Provinces, whoſe general aſſiſtance is earneſtly requeſted, and to whom the paper ſhall be ever FREE, and their productions received with GRATITUDE.

Having eſtabliſhed an extenſive correſpondence in Europe, and the ſeveral Colonies in America, to enable him effectually to comply with the foregoing engagements, he is perſuaded that all due encouragement will be given to ſo laudable an undertaking, and therefore determined to proſecute his deſign as ſoon as a number of ſubſcribers are procured, ſufficient barely to ſupport its expence; relying on the kindneſs of the PUBLIC, for further encouragement, as his performance ſhall appear to deſerve it.

Thoſe ladies and gentlemen, who may favor him with their ſubſcriptions, ſhall, in the city, receive the PENNSYLVANIA CHRONICLE, and UNIVERSAL ADVERTISER, at their reſpective houſes; or, if in the country, forwarded to them by the firſt opportunity; nor ſhall any care or induſtry be wanting to tranſmit it to the moſt diſtant cuſtomers with all the expedition poſſible.---In order to give his readers the freſheſt accounts of ſuch occurrences as ſhall arrive between Thurſday and Monday, in every week, he propoſes to publiſh his paper on the laſt mentioned day.---The rates of the paper and advertiſements will be the ſame (though printed on a much larger ſheet than any in America) with thoſe heretofore and now printed in this city.---All advertiſements ſhall be punctually inſerted, in order as they come in, and be neither delayed or diſplaced, but ſhall appear in a fair and conſpicuous manner.---And as his utmoſt and conſtant ambition ſhall be, to give the moſt perfect ſatisfaction to the PUBLIC, he is reſolved no trouble or expence, within the compaſs of his power, ſhall be wanting to make his CHRONICLE, &c. as complete as poſſible; nor ſhall any partial or intereſted motives induce him to ſwerve from the aſſurances he has here given them.

Beſides a regular publication of the CHRONICLE, he purpoſes to carry on the printing-buſineſs in all its branches, in a correct, careful, and diligent manner; and any perſons, who may have occaſion to employ the PRESS, on application, will find him ever ready to ſerve them with honor and fidelity, on the baſis of which alone he founds his pretenſions to the public favor.

Subſcriptions for the PENNSYLVANIA CHRONICLE, and UNIVERSAL ADVERTISER, will be taken in by the Printer, at his houſe three doors to the eaſtward of the Poſt-Office, and nearly oppoſite the houſe of Mr. JOHN WISTER, in MARKET-STREET, and by ſeveral gentlemen, in this city and province, and the other colonies on the continent, who have kindly offered their aſſiſtance, and to whom ſubſcription papers will be tranſmitted.

January 15, 1767. NUMB. 1986.

The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

By the Ship Newry, Captain Ruſſell, arrived at New-York, in ſix Weeks from Cork, we have the following Advices, viz.

CADIZ, September 26.

TWO days ago the Spaniſh ſhips of war, San Fernando, of 80 guns, and the Brillante, of 60 guns, with the Aſtræa and Punto Fixo frigates, arrived in this bay from the Havannah, and are ſaid to have brought home between two and three millions of dollars for the commerce.

Copenhagen, October 11. The whole Royal Family accompanied the Princeſs Sophia Magdalena to Elſineur, on Tueſday the 7th inſtant; and on the 8th her Royal Highneſs paſſed the Sound to Helſibourg, where ſhe was received by the Prince her conſort, and a deputation from the Senate, to complement her on her arrival in the territories of Sweden.

Altena, Oct. 10. All the preparations for the reception of the new Queen of Denmark, are finiſhed, and we eagerly expect her arrival. The number of ſtrangers who are come hither on this occaſion, has greatly increaſed the price of proviſions.

Paris, Oct. 3. Some perſons in this city have ſeen a manuſcript letter of Mr. J. J. R. addreſſed to Mr. H. containing a narration of their quarrel, the occaſion of which does not appear to be ſo diſgraceful either to the one or the other, as was at firſt given out. On the the part of Mr. R. it ſeems to have been the effect of an extreme delicacy of ſentiment, which he has expreſſed in a manner, that, one would think, muſt touch the moſt inſenſible heart: And in Mr. H. it might proceed from a ſtoick philoſophy, which could not foreſee what would afflict the man who wiſhed and deſerved to poſſeſs his friendſhip. This intereſting letter would ſoon be printed, if it was not for fear of offending three celebrated authors, of whom Mr. R. moſt bitterly complains.

Oct. 7. The three authors ſo bitterly complained of in the manuſcript letter of Rouſſeau, concerning the cauſe of the quarrel between him and Mr. H. are the Sieurs Tronchin, Voltaire and d'Alembert. We are aſſured in this letter, that the pretended epiſtle from the King of Pruſſia, which has given Rouſſeau the greateſt uneaſineſs, was fabricated by Mr. d'Alembert, and that Mr. W----e was only the ſuſpected author of it; and what gives Rouſſeau the greateſt diſtruſt is, that he has been ridiculed and abuſed in the publick papers, by none but the intimate friends of Mr. H.

LONDON, October 23.

They write from Genoa, that a body of the Republic's troops was preparing to embark for Corſica, in order to take re-poſſeſſion of the ſtrong holds occupied by the French; and it was the general opinion, that the latter would ſpeedily receive orders to evacuate that iſland.

Advice has been received at Cadiz from the South Seas, that the Spaniards have built a town, conſiſting of 300 houſes, on the late uninhabited iſland of Juan Fernandes, and erected batteries at the watering place, with a garriſon of three companies of foot.

They write from Toulon, that a frigate of war, and 4 tartans, had juſt ſailed for Corſica, on board of which part of the auxiliary troops under General Marbœuf, were to embark from that iſland, on their return to France.

It is ſaid our moſt gracious Queen will be allowed to honour ſeveral ladies of the firſt rank and diſtinction, with a new order, or peculiar mark of her favour, in imitation of thoſe lately granted by the Empreſſes of Germany and Ruſſia, and that the young Princeſs will be the firſt in creation.

All the regiments in the Emperor's ſervice are ordered to be compleated, and the cavalry to be remounted, for which purpoſe the ſtates of lower Auſtria are making new regulations in their finances.

It is talked, that part of our moſt ſoutherly poſſeſſions, on the continent of North-America, will be ceded to the King of Denmark, for a very valuable conſideration.

The wild boar which lately attacked the French King as he was hunting near Compeigne, tore out the bowels of his horſe with his tuſks; but his Majeſty luckily having a ſpare horſe near him, he got upon him with great agility, and putting the beaſt immediately to full ſpeed, thus eſcaped the fury of the enraged animal.

Yeſterday his Excellency Count de Guerchy, the French Ambaſſador, had a conference with his Majeſty's ſecretaries of ſtate.

An embargo on the exportation of barley, meal and flour, is hourly expected to be laid on all the ports in England; this matter having been the ſubject of divers late conſultations.

It is ſaid the firſt payment of the Manilla ranſom will be remitted hither from Cadiz, by the 15th of November next.

In a few days will begin to be ſtruck at the Tower, fifty tons of halfpence, for the uſe of the city and colony of New-York.

A noble Scots Peer's marriage articles with the richeſt heireſs in Britain are ſettled, and the union will ſoon be conſummated.

This day the Right Hon. the Earl of Rochfort ſet out on his embaſſy to the Court of France.

Sir Lawrence Dundas, Bart. has purchaſed of the Earl of Morton, his right and property in the iſles of Orkney and Shetland, at the value of 60,000 guineas.

A Letter from a Gentleman at B----n to his Friend in London, dated October 7.

SIR,

I DO not remember to have ſeen mentioned in any of the public prints, the true cauſe of a great General's having quitted a certain Potentate's ſervice, which was briefly this: His M------y had iſſued an order of leave for a certain number of his ſoldiers to aſſiſt the farmers, &c. in getting in their harveſt; for which, as they were to be ſatisfied by their employers, their military pay was ordered to go into the public treaſury, and not into the pockets of the officers, as had been uſual heretofore in ſuch caſes. The officers thinking this a hardſhip, particularly ſo ſoon after their having been at ſome extraordinary fatigues during the late war, applied to the great General, to repreſent their caſe to his M-----y, and to intercede in their behalf, which he kindly undertook; but his application was treated in ſuch a manner, as greatly diſguſted him, and occaſioned his reſigning all his military employments. His M-----y, it ſeems, thought it an improper requeſt to him, to revoke or alter an ordinance which he had iſſued, though ſollicited in the moſt cautious and reſpectful manner."

BOSTON, December 22.

Laſt Monday Joſeph Andrews, alias Anderſon, on an information of being one of the villians that murdered Captain Duryee, and all the people on board (one excepted) as mentioned in the depoſition of William Harris, at St. Kitts, was apprehended in this town, and immediately carried before a magiſtrate, who, after a cloſe examination, committed him to goal.----He ſhewed great ſigns of guilt on his being firſt apprehended; but denied, before the juſtice, his being concerned in the piracy and murder above mentioned.---He arrived at Caſco-Bay in a veſſel from St. Euſtatia, ſome time ago, from which place he took a paſſage on board a coaſting ſloop for this town, where he had been 6 weeks the day he was taken.---Two days after he arrived here he cut off his hair, in order it is thought to prevent his being known.---Many of Capt. Duryee's things were found on him, and in his cheſt, particularly, a medal which he wore round his neck, and ſeveral ſhirts, marked with the two letters of the Captain's chriſtian and ſirname.---He had been flush of money ever ſince his arrival, and a conſiderable ſum in gold was found on him when he was ſeized. The new ſtone goal not being quite finiſhed, he was, by a habeas corpus, removed on Wedneſday laſt, under a ſtrong guard, to Charleſtown; and it is hoped this enemy to mankind will in a ſhort time receive his juſt deſerts.

The ſame day arrived Captain Valentine, from Surrinam; on his paſſage a young man and the cooper having ſome difference, they got to blows, about two hours after which the former died. Upon the arrival of the veſſel here, the cooper voluntarily ſurrendered himſelf into the hands of juſtice.

We hear that Captain Tilden, in a ſloop from Martinico, bound to this port, was caſt away in the ſtorm laſt week, 5 miles below Cape-Anne, the veſſel and cargo entirely loſt, but we cannot learn whether the crew were ſaved or loſt.

Two ſchooners were alſo caſt away at Cape-Anne, but where they are from is uncertain, it is ſuppoſed one of them is from Liſbon, as a quantity of lemons were drove aſhore. It is feared all the people periſhed.

Laſt Thurſday and Friday we had a ſevere ſtorm of ſnow, which has rendered travelling ſo bad, that the ſouthern and eaſtern poſts are not yet got in.

By the Duke of Cumberland Packet, Captain Goodridge, from Falmouth, and Captain Harriot, from London, arrived at New-York, we have the following Advices, viz.

Weſtminſter, Nov. 11. This day his Majeſty came to the Houſe of Peers, and being in his royal robes ſeated on the throne, with the uſual ſolemnity, Sir Francis Molineux, Knt. Gentleman Uſher of the Black Rod, was ſent with a meſſage from his Majeſty to the Houſe of Commons, commanding their attendance in the Houſe of Peers. The Commons being come thither accordingly, his Majeſty was pleaſed to make the following moſt gracious Speech.

" My LORDS and GENTLEMEN,

THE high price of wheat, and the defective produce of that grain laſt harveſt, together with the extraordinary demands for the ſame from foreign parts, have principally determined me to call you thus early together, that I might have the ſenſe of Parliament, as ſoon as conveniently might be, on a matter ſo important, and particularly affecting the poorer ſort of my ſubjects.

" The urgency of the neceſſity called upon me, in the mean time, to exert my royal authority for the preſervation of the public ſafety, againſt a growing calamity, which could not admit of a delay. I have therefore, by and with the advice of my Privy Council, laid an embargo on wheat and wheat flour going out of the kingdom, until the advice of Parliament could be taken thereupon.

" If further proviſions of law be requiſite or expedient with regard to the dearneſs of corn, ſo neceſſary to the ſuſtenance of the poorer ſort, they cannot eſcape the wiſdom of Parliament, to which I recommend the due conſideration thereof.

" At the ſame time I muſt with concern take notice, that notwithſtanding my cares for my people, a ſpirit of the moſt daring inſurrection has, in divers parts, broke forth in violences of the moſt criminal nature.

" Neceſſary orders have been given for bringing ſuch dangerous offenders to condign puniſhment, and ſpeedy juſtice; nor ſhall vigilance and vigour, on my part, be wanting, to reſtore obedience and reverence to law and government.

" I have the ſatisfaction to inform you, that, ſince I laſt met you, I have concluded a treaty of commerce with my good ſiſter the Empreſs of Ruſſia, whereby that conſiderable branch of trade is fixed upon a juſt and ſatisfactory footing.

" It is with pleaſure that I alſo acquaint you, that the marriage between my good brother the King of Denmark and my ſiſter, the Princeſs Caroline Matilda, has been ſolemnized, and the natural alliance between the two crowns happily ſtrengthened, by an additional tye of ſo agreeable a nature.

" GENTLEMEN of the Houſe of COMMONS,

" I have ordered the proper eſtimates for the current ſervice of the year to be laid before you.

" Such ſupplies as you may grant ſhall be duly applied with the utmoſt fidelity, and ſtricteſt regard to the objects for which they are granted.

" My LORDS and GENTLEMEN,

" The general poſture of affairs in Europe affords no occaſion to lay any thing new before you upon that head. My purpoſes are conſtant and fixed to maintain, on my part, the public tranquility inviolate; and to ſupport the dignity of my crown, and the rights of my ſubjects. The juſtice and wiſdom of the other great powers of Europe leave no room to apprehend any intentions of a contrary nature."

" My LORDS,

" The ſenſe you expreſs of the meaſures which the ſafety of my people put me under the neceſſity of taking, during the receſs of my parliament, affords me the higheſt ſatisfaction. I rely on your aſſurances, that you will conſider, with attention, the proper means of preventing the evils of ſcarcity, and the neceſſary meaſures for enforcing that obedience and reverence which are due to laws and government.

" Your approbation of the treaty of commerce, which I have concluded with my good ſiſter the Empreſs of Ruſſia, is extremely agreeable to me; and I receive with particular pleaſure your congratulations on the birth of my daughter the Princeſs Royal, and on the marriage of my ſiſter the Princeſs Caroline Matilda, with my good brother the King of Denmark."

By the laſt letters from Senegal, there is advice, that Mr. O' Hara had ſent a flag of truce to the Governor of Goree Iſland, complaining of the irregularities committed by ſome French trading ſhips on the African coaſt.

It is ſaid that an Engliſh fort and ſettlement will ſoon be eſtabliſhed at Cape Verd, intended as a check upon the French at Goree.

This day the price of corn at Bear-Key fell 1s. 6d. per quarter, occaſioned by the quantities brought to market on account of the embargo.

NEW-YORK, January 5.

By Capt. Nelſon, who arrived here laſt Monday morning from Nevis, in 29 days, we have the pleaſure to hear there is like to be very good crops in moſt of the iſlands; the hurricane and ſtorm not having done the great damages to the ſugar canes that were at firſt apprehended.---Capt. Nelſon met with pretty hard weather, eſpecially on the 27th ult. when being cloſe up with the light-houſe, the wind was ſo violent, that it tore a good new main-ſail quite out of the bolt-rope, and beat him off, but he happily got in the next day. One of our pilot-boats, lying off the Hook at anchor the ſame day, was obliged to cut her cables, or be forced under water.

Jan. 12. Capt. Campbell, from Rhode-Iſland, laſt Monday paſſed by a ſloop in the Sound off Oyſter-Bay, adrift, a boat alongſide, and no body on board, as he could ſee, but the wind blowing hard, he could not take any further cognizance of her. By him we learn, that Capt. Montgomery, in a ſloop of this port, homeward bound from Halifax, was caſt away about three weeks ago in a ſnow ſtorm, a little to the eaſtward of Cape Cod; men and cargo ſaved, and it is thought the veſſel may be got off again.

Captain Dobſon, from Penſacola, informs us, that Governor Johnſton intended to ſail for England about 10 days after him. With Capt. Dobſon came paſſenger Colonel George Croghan, who went for the Ilinois, by way of Pittſburgh, to make peace with the ſouthern Indians, which we are told he has happily effected.

Capt. Hawthorn, in 9 weeks from Briſtol, ſpoke with the following veſſels, viz. The 25th of Nov. in lat. 30: 50, lon. 28, with the ſhip Peggy, Capt. Younghuſband, from Liverpool, for Virginia, 19 days out; the 13th of December, in lat. 27: 34, lon. 49, with the London packet, from London, for Boſton, Robert Calef, maſter, 40 days out, who informed Capt. Hawthorn he ſailed in company with three other veſſels for Boſton alſo; and on the 28th of the month, in lat. 34: 26, lon. 71, he fell in with a brig from Philadelphia, bound for Jamaica, Joſeph Weſt, maſter, 3 days from the capes, all well.

Capt. Barlet, for Boſton, and Capt. Vallance, for Philadelphia, were to ſail from Briſtol in 14 days after Capt. Hawthorn.

Capt. Joſeph Jauncey, in 28 days from Jamaica, acquaints us, that Capt. Ellery, in a brig belonging to Rhode-Iſland, was lately caſt away in Montague-Bay, but that the cargo would be ſaved, though it was feared the veſſel would be loſt.

Capt. Dun, in a brig belonging to Philadelphia, ſailed from Jamaica for the Bay of Honduras about 35 days ago.

The Pitt, Allan, from Belfaſt, is aground on the weſt bank, but has received little damage as yet.

PHILADELPHIA, January 15.

Extract of a Letter from London, November 8, 1766.

" As to Politics, there is nothing to write on this Head till the Parliament meets next Tueſday, when the State Combatants will certainly ſtart. You will ſee, in the Papers, that a Coalition between Lord Chatham, the Duke of Bedford, Earl Temple, and G. Grenville, is ſaid to have taken Place; but I aſſure you, there is no Foundation for ſuch a Report. They will all be ſtrongly in the Oppoſition; what Figure they will make, we ſhall ſoon now ſee, but Lord Chatham will certainly have enough upon his Hands.

" The firſt Buſineſs the Parliament will go upon, it is thought, will be the Corn Bill, and other Laws for regulating the Price of Proviſions, if that can be done to any Purpoſe.---After that, the Affairs of the Eaſt-India Company will probably engroſs their Attention; and I believe they intend to take the Territory they have acquired in India, under the Protection of the Britiſh Government, allowing the Company a reaſonable Part of the Revenues of it. This will ſecure their Conqueſt, which they would otherwiſe be in great Danger of loſing, as it is almoſt impoſſible they can maintain it by their own Strength alone.----They talk too of an equal Land Tax, and other Schemes, which will be very agreeable, if they are carried into Execution.

" As the Parliament is drawing near its Concluſion, they are beginning already to canvas for the new Elections, though at the Diſtance of almoſt two Years. This is a ſad, but unavoidable Inconvenience; becauſe the public Buſineſs always ſuffers on theſe Occaſions, and the Morals of the People are greatly corrupted.

" Wilkes, you will ſee, is returned to England once more; but I do not find he has had any Encouragement to come home; ſo it is likely he will be obliged to take himſelf out of the Way again."

Captain M'Crahan, from Ivica, on the 19th ult. in Lat. 35, Long. 70, ſpoke the Sloop Æolus, Captain Andrew, from Maryland for Surrinam, all well.---On the 5th Inſtant, about 20 Leagues to the Eaſtward of our Capes, ſpoke a Snow, with Palatines, from Hamburgh, for New-York, but the Wind blowing very hard, he could not learn further Particulars.----Captain M'Crahan, in the latter Part of his Paſſage, met with very hard Gales of Wind, but received no conſiderable Damage.-----He touched at Gibraltar, where he left a Brig, belonging to New-London, bound to Leghorn, but does not remember the Captain's Name.

On the Banks of Newfoundland, he met with very hard Gales of Wind, in which he ſhipped ſeveral heavy Seas, and ſuffered conſiderably in his Sails and Rigging.

Captain Dobſon, from Whitby, on the 4th Inſtant, in Lat. 36: 32, Long. 73, ſpoke a Brig, Captain M'Coy, from Antigua for Virginia, out 40 Days, who had loſt his Mainmaſt, and was in Want of Water, his Water Caſks in the Hold being all ſtove.

The Captains Sparks and Nuttle, from this Port for London, made their Paſſages in 28 Days---Capt. Pierce is arrived at Liverpool, and Capt. Murphy at Cork, both from this Place.

A Charity Sermon was preached on Friday Evening laſt at St. Paul's Church, for the Benefit of the Priſoners confined in the Goal of this City, and other poor and diſtreſſed Perſons, when the Collection amounted to Seventeen Pounds---Charity Sermons were likewiſe preached at Chriſt-Church and St. Peter's, on Sunday laſt, both Forenoon and Afternoon, at which time One Hundred and Thirty-one Pounds, Eighteen Shillings, was collected.

Laſt Week the MAYOR's Court was held here, when Edward Dillon was convicted of picking Pockets; Patrick Harvey, and Mary Moore, of Shop-lifting; and Elizabeth Freeborn, alias Mahaffy, for receiving ſtolen Goods of a Negroe, knowing them to be ſuch; for which they were all whipt at the public Poſt on Saturday laſt.-----And Michael Haggerty, Francis Conſiglio, William Bowman, and John Morriſon, being convicted of Felony, at ſaid Court, were the ſame Day whipt round four Squares, at the Cart's Tail; and Yeſterday Haggerty, Conſiglio, and Morriſon, were whipt again round the ſame Squares.

January 15, 1767.

WAS taken up and committed to the Work-houſe of Philadelphia, the 4th of this Inſtant, one Bridget M'Cormick; ſays ſhe belongs to one James Morris, over Saſquehannah, in Maryland; this is to inform ſaid Morris, or any Perſon ſhe belongs to, that if they don't come or ſend for her in three Weeks from this Date, and pay her Charges, ſhe will be ſold out for the ſame, by the Keeper of the ſaid Work-houſe. ¶

WHEREAS a very extraordinary Advertiſement hath lately appeared in this Paper, ſigned by Charles Tennent, ſetting forth, that I had departed from him without his Conſent, after having extravagantly laid out large Sums of Money without his Knowledge, and threatened to run him much more in Debt, than (as he ſays) I have already done; and that, notwithſtanding his frequent, earneſt and tender Requeſts to me, have refuſed to return to his Houſe and live with him, according to our ſolemn Obligation. In order to do myſelf Juſtice, and ſet the Matter in a clearer Light to the Public, than what it has yet been repreſented, I do aſſure the Public the Matter ſtands as follows; Mr. Tennent, for Reaſons which I ſhall not here mention, and which would have been but prudent in him not to have mentioned, has treated me very ill, and not uſed me like a Wife; he has refuſed me the Privilege of my Negroe Wench to wait on me; refuſed me the Uſe of my Horſe and Carriage; and one Day, notwithſtanding the Extremity I was in with the Tooth-ach, refuſed me a Horſe, to go and get my Tooth drawn; and being under the Neceſſity of going on Foot, before I returned, which was the ſame Day that I went, he had paſted up Advertiſements around the Neighbourhood, to the ſame Effect he has done here. I further aſſure the Public, I never abſconded from him in any other Manner, nor extravagantly, or otherwiſe, laid out any Sum or Sums of Money ſince I became his Wife, but what I paid out of my own Eſtate, to anſwer his Debts, and for Clothes both for himſelf and his Children, not even on my own Account, excepting one Suit of Clothes, which I bought at the ſame time that I bought a Suit for him; that he never entreated me to return and live with him; but, on the contrary, ſince I came to Town, tho' I went to his Lodgings, and deſired to ſee him, he would not ſee me, nor meet me before any Gentlemen in Town, to talk the Matter Face to Face: And I cannot but greatly wonder, that ſuch a Man (as Mr. Tennent would endeavour to perſuade the Public he is) would be guilty of ſetting his Hand to ſuch a malicious Piece of Stuff.

The PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

Containing the Freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtic.

CONSTANTINOPLE, September 1.

ADVICES received from the Canal, confirm the accounts that have been already publiſhed of the damage done there by the earthquake on the 5th of Auguſt. The town of Dardanelles in Aſia was conſiderably damaged. Moſt of the manufactories of earthen ware, of which there are great numbers, were deſtroyed, beſides a conſiderable number of houſes, and 22 mills out of 23, which were on the top of the mountain; in ſhort, hardly any of the buildings eſcaped without ſome damage. Gallipoli ſuffered ſtill more, above half of that town being reduced to a heap of ruins. At Cora, a large town at the entrance of the Propontis, upon the north ſhore, which conſiſted of above 800 houſes, very few were left ſtanding, and moſt of the inhabitants were buried in the ruins. The Iſland of Tenedos, and the city of Enos likewiſe, were much injured, and the agitation of the earth was ſenſibly felt at Smyrna and Sallonica, though happily no damage was done there. As no ſhocks have been perceived for this week paſt, we are in hopes that we have nothing further to apprehend.

Berlin, Oct. 4. The Sieur Urſinus, Privy Councellor of the Finances, was arreſted yeſterday in his own houſe, and ſoon after ſent to the citadel of Spandau. All his papers were immediately ſealed up, and the occaſion of his diſgrace is variouſly reported.

Frankfort, Oct. 8. It is reported, and aſſured from various places, that the Duke of Richlieu will very ſpeedily ſet out from Paris to Vienna, to negotiate a treaty of marriage with the Archdutcheſs Maria Antonietta and the Dauphin of France.

Amſterdam, Oct. 13. We have received advice, that our Eaſt-India Company hath concluded a peace with the King of Candia, in the iſland of Ceylon, upon very advantageous terms.

Vienna, Oct. 4. The Ottoman Porte ſhewed our miniſter, the Baron de Penckler, more than uſual reſpect when he went to take leave of the Grand Vizir; who upon this occaſion aſſured the Baron, that the good underſtanding which had long ſubſiſted between the two empires, was extremely ſatisfactory to the Ottoman Porte; and that he was determined to cement the friendſhip between them, by a ſtrict obſervance of treaties.

Peterſburgh, Sept. 26. By order of the Empreſs, the new treaty of commerce, concluded between this Court and that of Great-Britain, is juſt publiſhed in the Ruſſian and French languages.

Copenhagen, Oct. 14. Though it has been cuſtomary for the King's ſubjects to make a free gift upon the marriage of a Princeſs of the Royal Family, his Majeſty hath been graciouſly pleaſed to excuſe them on the marriage of his ſiſter. This indulgence is not only granted to the inhabitants of Denmark and Norway, but likewiſe extends to thoſe of his Majeſty's dominions in Germany and the Holſtein.

Paris, Oct. 13. Notwithſtanding it has been reported, that the King's troops were going to be recalled from Corſica, we hear, from very good authority, that they will winter there, and that the endeavours of the Count de Marbeuf to bring about a reconciliation between the Malecontents of that iſland, and the republic of Genoa, have hitherto proved ineffectual.

Utrecht, Oct. 22. They write from Madrid, that not only the Rector of the Jeſuits of Sarragoſſa, and five of his brethren, have been areſted and ſent to priſon; but that all the Friars of that community have met with the ſame fate.

Leghorn, Oct. 3. We learn from Corſica, that the troops of General Paoli were under arms, and conſtantly ready for marching; though the French troops, in garriſon in that kingdom, remain quiet in their quarters.

Copenhagen, Oct. 18. The whole Court is now ſettled here, and every thing is prepared for her Majeſty's reception.

Milan, Oct. 4. Our correſpondent at Turin writes us word, that one Lanzon, of Mondovi, in Piedmont, went over into Corſica ſome years ago, and found means to introduce himſelf to Paoli, to whom he was made ſecretary; but imagining that his new employment would not produce him any great matter, and perceiving the animoſity which prevailed among ſome of the principal people of the iſland againſt Paoli, he endeavoured underhand to ruin him entirely, in hopes to make ſomething by the confuſion. Some officers promiſed to join him, and others, who were more prudent, hinted to him, that they would declare themſelves at a proper time. He even found means to engage ſome of his countrymen to ſet about raiſing a body of troops in Piedmont, in order to be ſent into Corſica; but while this intrigue was carrying on, the vigilant Paoli diſcovered the whole plot, and gave orders to arreſt Lanzon and his accomplices, but they had the good luck to eſcape. Paoli, upon examining Lanzon's papers, diſcovered the intrigues he had carried on in Piedmont, which he made known to the court of Turin, who cauſed one of the principal parties concerned to be ſecured, and would have done the ſame by another, if he had not eluded his purſuers.

Stockholm, Oct. 10. It is aſſured that the extraordinary tribunal eſtabliſhed to enquire into matters relating to the late revolt of the peaſants, hath condemned the rebel Hoffman to have his right hand cut off, and to be beheaded; but many people are of opinion, that on account of the marriage of the Prince Royal, the King will ſave his life, and condemn him to perpetual impriſonment.

Vienna, Oct. 15. It is aſſured that a marriage is upon the carpet between her Royal Highneſs the Archdutcheſs Maria-Joſephina, who will be 16 years of age next March, and the King of the Two Sicilies, who will be 16 in January.

Leghorn, Oct. 4. Our accounts from the Iſland of Corſica are ſo contradictory, that we know not what to make of them: It is however certain, that the malecontents perſiſt in their reſolution of not returning under the dominion of the Genoeſe; therefore time will ſhew whether the French, or any other power, will think it worth while to make uſe of force to oblige them to change their reſolution.

Stockholm, Oct. 21. Hoffman has been executed here this morning, in purſuance of the ſentence paſſed upon him by the commiſſion.

Hamburgh, Oct. 21. On Saturday, the 18th inſtant, the Queen of Denmark landed at Altena; and it is impoſſible to deſcribe the crowds of people, as well upon the Elbe as on the ſhore, and in every ſtreet through which her Majeſty was to paſs, waiting to ſee their Queen. The river was covered with boats ornamented with Daniſh and Britiſh colours, as were all the ſhips with their reſpective ones, both at Altena and Hamburgh. On account of the tide her Majeſty did not get into her barge at Haarbourg till paſt three o'clock: It was a new one, finely ornamented, and built by the city of Hamburgh on purpoſe for this ſolemnity. Her Majeſty's approach to Altena was announced by the frequent diſcharges of cannon from the ſhips in the river; and as ſoon as ſhe came in ſight of Hamburgh, that city ſaluted the Queen with thirty guns. A quarter of an hour before the landing, his Excellency the Baron de Debn, Stadtholder of the Dutchies of Sleſwick and Holſtein, handed the Grande Maitreſſe, Madame de Pleſſe, followed by the Maids of Honour, and the reſt of her Majeſty's houſhold, down to the bridge prepared for the royal reception, which was covered with ſcarlet cloth, on one ſide whereof were ranged the ladies, and on the other the men, and at the end were two rows of young maidens dreſſed in white, who ſtrewed flowers before her Majeſty as ſhe advanced. It was paſt 6 o'clock when the Queen landed. The ſtreets were lined with the burghers under arms, and eſcorted by the Daniſh cuiraſſiers. Her Majeſty paſſed under a triumphal arch, finely illuminated: Another of the ſame kind was erected oppoſite to the Queen's houſe, where her Majeſty being arrived, the ladies were immediately preſented to her; after which her Majeſty ſupped in public. On Sunday morning the Queen went to church: At her return there was a circle, when all the foreign Miniſters here were introduced to her Majeſty, as were the deputies from the city of Hamburgh. After dining in public, about four of the clock her Majeſty, attended by all the court, and by the Engliſh and Hanoverian Suite, paſſed through the principal ſtreets of Hamburgh, preceded by a large detachment of Hamburgh dragoons, as well as by the Daniſh troops: Her Majeſty was ſaluted, both at her entry and departure, by a grand diſcharge of the cannon upon the ramparts. At her Majeſty's return to Altena, ſhe found the city finely illuminated. Yeſterday, being Monday, her Majeſty had a full court, and was graciouſly pleaſed to receive a deputation of four members of the factory, to compliment her upon her arrival; and about ten o'clock the next morning her Majeſty ſet out to proceed on her journey to Copenhagen.

Altena, Oct. 24. When Lady Boothby took leave of the Queen of Denmark, her Majeſty made her a preſent of an etwee ſet with diamonds, in which was a draught for a thouſand ducats.

Genoa, Oct. 4. Our laſt letters from Spain import, that his Catholic Majeſty had ordered his fleet coming from India to unload their cargoes in the firſt port they came to after receiving this order; which was done at the Havannah; but that in conſequence of the accommodation which has lately taken place between the courts of Madrid and London, relative to the Manilla ranſom, an expreſs has been diſpatched with orders to reload the treaſure, and bring it to Cadiz.

The King of Spain having a deſign to put his marine on a reſpectable footing, hath ordered, that beſides the 12,000 trees which have been cut down in the foreſt of Catalonia, 6000 more ſhould be cut and carried to the dock yards of that kingdom, for the conſtruction of ſhips.

Algiers, Sept. 6. On the 6th of laſt month the Bey cauſed four Turks to be ſtrangled here for having conſpired againſt his life.

Itzehoe, in Denmark, Oct. 24. Laſt Tueſday, in the evening, the new Queen arrived in this city, preceded by 15 poſtillions, and eſcorted by a detachment of the regiment of green guards. Her Majeſty was received by the Magiſtrates near the town-houſe; the citizens having been drawn up in the great ſquare, with drums beating and colours flying: In the evening there were illuminations, and the next day her Majeſty continued her journey towards Copenhagen.

Hamburgh, Oct. 28. A prodigious quantity of corn is arrived here. Above 100 veſſels came into port yeſterday, with this commodity.

To the Printers of the PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

AS the Practice prevails in our Mother Country, I hope you will have no Objections againſt inſerting in your Papers, the Obſervations that any Gentleman may decently make concerning the Actors on our little Theatre here.

I do not rely wholly upon my own Delicacy of Judgment in the following Remarks, for I have gathered and compared the Sentiments of many others, who have had good Opportunities of improving their Taſte of both Plays and Players. The Practice of altering the Author's Expreſſions is univerſally condemned by all Men of Senſe, and leaves no Excuſe for the Vanity or Neglect of the Actor; and I hope this little Hint will be ſufficient to guard our Actors againſt any Thing of the like Nature for the future; for they ought to conſider, that one indecent, ungarded, ill judged Expreſſion, will do them inconceivable Miſchief in this Country, and that no one Advantage can ariſe from taking ſuch a Liberty, but if they clearly avoid this Rock, and are prudent in the Choice of Plays, the rational Entertainment muſt, and will, ſucceed, agreeable to the higheſt Wiſhes of thoſe who are concerned in it.

I am ſorry Mr. Hallam, who is genteel in his Perſon and Action, could not take Copy from the inimitable Garrick, and ſpeak plain Engliſh, whenever he aſſumes a Character that may be ſuppoſed to underſtand the Language. There is no Neceſſity of deſtroying the leaſt articulate Beauty of Language, thro' Fury, Eagerneſs or Paſſion; Miſs Cheer never loſes the ſweeteſt Accent, or faulters in the Clearneſs of Expreſſion, from any or all thoſe Cauſes, though I believe ſhe is equally delicate, and capable of feeling the Force of Paſſion.

I am not alone, when I pronounce her one of the beſt Players in the Empire; ſhe appears to me, from that Eaſe of Behaviour which always ſhines through every Action, to have been much among People of Faſhion, for ſhe well fits the higheſt Character ſhe ever aſſumes.

I muſt beg Leave to inform the Public, that the pleaſing Love in a Village is done here beyond Expectation, and muſt give real Delight to every Perſon void of Ill-nature.---Miſs Wainwright is a very good Singer, and her Action exceeds the famous Miſs Brent. Mr. Hallam exceeds every Thing in the Character of Hodge; and Mr. Woolls almoſt equals Beard in Hauthorn. Miſs Hallam deſerves univerſal Applauſe and Encouragement. I could wiſh to ſee the Houſe better filled whenever this juſtly applauded Entertainment is exhibited.

WAS left in my cuſtody, by Captain Benjamin Holland, of the Ship Royal Charlotte, ſome time in November, 1765, a ſmall box of merchandize, marked M. A. K. No. 31. The owner is deſired to come and prove his property, pay charges, and take it away. JAMES CRAIG.

N. B. Said box was advertiſed in the London Coffee-houſe books laſt fall.

The following obſervations upon the ſevere cold of the laſt week were made by the help of a very good Mercurial Thermometer, that had the advantage of a proper ſituation for that purpoſe; if therefore you have received no better account, your publiſhing the ſame may gratify the curious. Sunday morning, in the open air, the Mercury at 5 deg. Tueſday night at 4 deg. Wedneſday morning at 1 deg. in the houſe without a fire, but after having been expoſed to the open air for about an hour, it fell to 9 deg. below 0. Thurſday morning, in the houſe, at 1 deg. but out of doors at 8 deg. and an half; at 11 o'clock at night at 2 deg. By a Thermometer in Boſton, it was, Wedneſday, Dec. 31, 5 deg. below 0. Thurſday, January 1, 6 deg. below 0. Friday, Jan. 2. 5 deg. below 0. By the ſame Thermometer it was, for 4 Years before, never lower than 3 deg. and an half below 0, and that only for a ſhort time, leſs than a day. By another it was Wedneſday 7 deg. below 0. NEW-YORK, January 15.

By Captain Dobſon, from New-Orleans, we have Advice, that though a Spaniſh Governor, with about 100 Men, had arrived there ſome Time ago, yet that the Garriſon and Iſland were ſtill in the Poſſeſſion of the French; who were in general diſſatisfied with the Ceſſion of that Place to the Spaniards, and would much rather they had been put under the Engliſh Government; but that the Spaniſh Governor had ſent an Expreſs to the Havannah, for 300 Men more, and when they arrived the Fort and Place were to be peaceably put into his Poſſeſſion; and Captain Dobſon ſays, as he came by the Havannah, he ſaw ſeveral Veſſels getting under Sail there, which he apprehends were thoſe Forces. It was aſſerted, that the Spaniards had actually ceded all the Iſland of Hiſpaniola to the French, in Lieu of the Iſland of Orleans; and that moſt of the Spaniſh Settlers of Hiſpaniola, had left that Iſland, and gone to Porto-Rico.

Captain Deane, from Santa Croix, informs us, that laſt Thurſday, he ſpoke with a Brig bound from Monto Chriſti for Boſton, who told him, that in a hard Gale of Wind, ſix Veſſels had been drove aſhore and loſt at the Mount, two of which belonged to New-York, one whereof was a Schooner, Captain Cooper, but he could not learn the other's Name. Captain Kelly, in a Brig, and Captain Cunningham in a Sloop, both from this Port, were arrived at St. Croix.

We have Advice from Barbados, via Antigua, that Admiral Pye was at that Iſland, and had continual Cruizers out from thence to Dominica, being determined to protect the Trade to thoſe Iſlands, from any Interruptions of the French or Spaniards.

We have terrible Accounts from all Parts, of the Damage done by the Floods and Ice upon the late ſudden Thaw: From New-Haven, in Connecticut, we hear that all the Bridges in that Neighbourhood, were either carried away, or rendered impaſſable. That a Brig, Captain Venters, lying there ready to ſail for the Weſt-Indies, loaded with live Stock, Cattle, Horſes, Grain, Lumber, &c. was by the Ice driven on the Rocks with ſuch Violence, that the Veſſel was beat to Pieces, and the whole Cargoe entirely loſt---the People were ſaved.

Captain Joſeph Trowbridge of the ſame Place, ſlipped or parted his Cable, and went out, but has not ſince been heard of.

The Reverend Mr. THOMAS CLAP, late Preſident of Yale-College, in New-Haven, in which Station he had acted for a great Number of Years, lately died in that Town, where he was buried on Thurſday laſt. By the HIBERNIA, Captain PAUL, from Londonderry, we have the following Advices, viz.

The humble ADDRESS of the Right Honourable the LORDS SPIRITUAL and TEMPORAL, in Parliament aſſembled.

Die Martis, 11 Novembris, 1766.

Moſt Gracious SOVEREIGN,

WE, Your Majeſty's moſt loyal and dutiful Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal, in Parliament aſſembled, beg Leave to return Your Majeſty our unfeigned Thanks for Your moſt Gracious Speech from the Throne.

It is with the ſincereſt Satisfaction that we congratulate Your Majeſty on the Addition to Your Royal Family, by the Birth of a Princeſs Royal; ever mindful of that Divine Bleſſing to which we owe the Preſervation of our Religion and Conſtitution, by the Succeſſion of Your Illuſtrious Houſe to the Throne of theſe Kingdoms, and of the Happineſs we, together with all Your Majeſty's Subjects, have enjoyed under their moſt auſpicious Government.

Permit us alſo, Sir, to congratulate Your Majeſty on the Solemnization of the Marriage of Your Majeſty's Siſter, the Princeſs Caroline Matilda, with the King of Denmark, by which the natural Alliance between the Two Crowns receives ſuch an additional Strength and Support.

We acknowledge, with the trueſt Gratitude, the paternal Affection and tender Concern which Your Majeſty has ſhewn for Your People, by laying an Embargo on Wheat and Wheat Flour, until the Senſe of Parliament could be taken thereon; preventing by this Meaſure the immediate and dangerous Conſequences, which would have ariſen to the publick Welfare, and more particularly to the Eaſe and Comfort of the poorer Sort of Your Subjects, from a Scarcity of that Grain.

We ſhall give, on our Part, the moſt earneſt Attention to the Conſideration of every Means, by which the Evils of Scarcity may be effectually prevented; anxious to forward the gracious and ſalutary Purpoſes, which Your Majeſty conſtantly manifeſts, for the Welfare of every Rank of Your Subjects. Truly ſenſible of Your Majeſty's Royal Wiſdom, in having given the neceſſary Orders for bringing the Offenders againſt the publick Peace to condign Puniſhment, and ſpeedy Juſtice, we beg Leave to aſſure Your Majeſty, of our Reſolution to purſue and maintain Meaſures ſo indiſpenſably neceſſary for the Suppreſſion of Riot and Licentiouſneſs, and for enforcing that Reſpect and Obedience which are due to Government.

We gratefully acknowledge the Communication it has pleaſed Your Majeſty to make to us, of a Treaty of Commerce being concluded with the Empreſs of Ruſſia. The Security given thereby to ſo conſiderable a Branch of Trade, by fixing it on a juſt and ſatisfactory Footing, is a freſh Inſtance of Your Majeſty's conſtant Care and Concern for the Commercial Intereſts of theſe Kingdoms.

Animated with the trueſt Sentiments of Duty, Zeal, and Affection, we thankfully receive the juſt and wiſe Declaration of Your Majeſty's Intentions, to maintain the publick Tranquility, as well as to ſupport the Dignity of the Crown, and the Rights of your People."

The humble ADDRESS of the HOUSE of COMMONS to the KING.

Moſt Gracious SOVEREIGN,

WE Your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Great-Britain in Parliament aſſembled, return Your Majeſty our moſt humble Thanks for Your moſt Gracious Speech from the Throne.

We deſire your Majeſty will believe, that we entertain the moſt grateful Senſe of the paternal and tender Regard Your Majeſty has ſhewn for the Welfare of Your People, by laying an Embargo on Wheat and Wheat-Flour going out of the Kingdom, until Your Majeſty ſhould have the Advice of Your Parliament on that important Subject.

And we beg Leave to aſſure Your Majeſty, that Your Faithful Commons will not fail, agreeably to your Majeſty's Recommendation, to take this weighty Matter into our moſt ſerious Conſideration, in order, by timely and effectual Meaſures, to purſue the Two great Ends, which Your Majeſty's Wiſdom has pointed out, of providing againſt the many Evils attending a Dearneſs or Scarcity of Corn, eſpecially to the poorer Sort of Your Majeſty's Subjects; and, at the ſame time, of ſuppreſſing that daring and dangerous Spirit of Riot, which has of late too generally ſhewn itſelf in many Parts of this Kingdom.

It is with the greateſt Satisfaction, that we aſſure Your Majeſty, of our unfeigned Joy, on the ſafe and happy Delivery of Her Majeſty, and on the Birth of a Princeſs; every Increaſe of Your Majeſty's Royal Family being a freſh Pledge of the future Liberty and Happineſs of Your People.

And, animated with the ſame Zeal, we moſt heartily congratulate Your Majeſty on the Solemnization of the Marriage of Your Majeſty's Siſter, the Princeſs Caroline Matilda, with the King of Denmark; by which the Union with that ancient and natural Ally of Your Majeſty's Crown is ſtrengthened, by a freſh Tye of the moſt endearing Kind.

We return Your Majeſty our very ſincere Thanks, for Your gracious Communication, that a Treaty of Commerce has been lately concluded with the Empreſs of Ruſſia; which, whilſt it gives us Hopes of ſeeing that important Branch of our Trade continued hereafter on a ſolid and advantageous Footing, is a new Proof of Your Majeſty's conſtant Regard for the true Intereſt of this Commercial Nation.

It is with the utmoſt Chearfulneſs that Your Majeſty's faithful Commons will grant ſuch Supplies, as ſhall be neceſſary for the Service of the Year; having the utmoſt Confidence in the Aſſurance Your Majeſty is pleaſed to give, that they will be punctually applied to thoſe Purpoſes for which they ſhall be granted.

We beg Your Majeſty will permit us to expreſs our higheſt Satisfaction on the preſent happy Eſtabliſhment of the public Tranquility; and the well-grounded Hopes we entertain, from the Wiſdom of Your Majeſty's Councils, and the Influence of Your Example, that, while Your Majeſty wiſely unites, with the Reſolution to ſupport the Dignity of Your Crown, and the Rights of Your People, a true Zeal for the general Peace and Happineſs of Mankind, the ſame Spirit of Equity and Moderation, which animates Your Majeſty's Conduct, will direct the Councils of the other great Powers of Europe to the like juſt and ſalutary Views."

[His Majeſty's Anſwers to the above Addreſſes, have already been inſerted in this Paper.]

LONDON.

Nov. 18. It is ſaid a foreign Nobleman of great diſtinction is going to be naturalized, and to purchaſe a large eſtate in this kingdom.

We are told from Bruſſels, that the Pope's Nuncio there has obtained 12,000 muids of corn [the muid is five quarters] for the uſe of the Eccleſiaſtical State; that Cardinal Pamphili, before his departure from Paris for Rome, had permiſſion to ſend from France 10,000 meaſures of grain; and that the other Nuncios had requeſted and obtained the ſame permiſſion of the different Catholick powers of Europe.

The Dutch Eaſt India Company are to pay a certain annual ſum to the King of Candy, for the lands which he has ceded to them by the late treaty of peace.

By the Dalrymple, Captain Jones, from Senegal, there is advice, that the French traders ſhips were more numerous on the coaſt than at any time ſince the concluſion of the late war.

The Lynx and Levant frigates ſailed from Spithead on Thurſday laſt to their different ſtations in the Weſt-Indies.

It is ſaid one Corn-factor in this City, has at this time 70,000 quarters of wheat by him.

Nov. 20. A premium, it is ſaid, will be ſettled by an auguſt aſſembly, for thoſe farmers and other dealers, who bring the greateſt quantity of wheat and other grain, and the chief neceſſaries of life to any public market; it having been judged the moſt effectual method of preventing regrating, engroſſing, and foreſtalling.

By Letters from Ludlow we learn, that on Saturday laſt the colliers from the Cleehill went to Ludlow in a body, to pull down the ſtill-houſe there. The mob entered the town in a very orderly manner, proceeded to the houſe, pulled it down, and then went back without doing or attempting any injury to any perſon beſides. The Magiſtrates aſſembled to prevent the riot, and Thomas Knight, Eſq; the Bailiff, exerted himſelf as became a good Magiſtrate, declaring that the ſtill ſhould be ſtopped; but they could not be reſtrained.

It is ſaid the importation of wheat and wheat-flour is to be allowed duty free for a limited time.

They write from Breſt, that four large tranſports were arrived there, laden with ſhip timber from the ports of Fiume and Trieſt, in the Mediterranean, and that this neceſſary article, ſo ſcarce in France, was collecting from every part of the continent noted for producing good oak.

On the 4th inſt. an extraordinary marriage was performed at Thorne, in Yorkſhire: A man of that place ſold his wife to a neighbour for five ſhillings, to whom he delivered her in a halter; but the purchaſer being deſirous of having her ſecured to him by marriage, a few days after went with the former huſband to Doncaſter to apply for licence to ſolemnize the ſame, which they obtained, and the ceremony was accordingly performed at the above time and place, when the firſt huſband became father, and gave her away; the Miniſter not knowing any thing of the circumſtances of the affair.

The quantity of wheat conſumed by the Starch Makers is eſtimated at 30,000 quarters per annum.

Nov. 22. The number of good meaſures ſaid to be projected by the adminiſtration, are now made the topics of converſation in all companies; and people are become ſo full of agreeable hopes, that it may truly be ſaid the public mind was never in a more tranquil and happy ſituation than at preſent.

When the King of Pruſſia and Prince Ferdinand ſeparated, it is ſaid no further occaſion was given for the quarrel than this: At a great review the King ſaid, Je ne ſuis pas content de vos troupes aujour d'hui. Your troops diſpleaſed me to day. On which he anſwered, Sire! Je ſuis faché de vous dire que vos troupes ne ſont pas content de vous. Am ſorry to ſay, Sire! the troops are diſpleaſed with you.

The Empreſs Queen has made a grand military promotion, and nominated Prince Ferdinand of Brunſwick, the Hereditary Prince of Modena, the Count de Weld, and the Baron Charles O'Donnel, Field Marſhals.

They write from Hamburgh, that the clergy of Sweden have been deprived of the tenth, which they have raiſed, time immemorial, on the eſtates belonging to the crown. This tenth was originally granted for enabling them to exerciſe hoſpitality; but the three other orders of the diet, having found it was not applied to that uſe, they have united it to the other revenues of the ſtate.---To what a ſum would a deprivation of the tenths on the great church preferments in England amount!

It is ſaid the parliament will break up in March, and that their Majeſties intend ſoon after to viſit their German dominions.

We hear that a noble Lord's plan for providing for the Royal Family, is thus:

Four hundred thouſand pounds to make good the deficiencies in the civil liſt.

The Duke of York to be Lord High Admiral, with the uſual ſalary.

The Duke of Glouceſter to be Field Marſhal and Generaliſſimo of the Engliſh forces, with a ſalary.

And the Duke of Cumberland to be Lord Lieutenant (or Viceroy) of Ireland, for life, with a Council to aſſiſt him.

A noble Marquis did not, as was reported, refuſe to accept the ſalary annexed to the firſt ſeat in the Treaſury, this ſalary is rated in the books at about 1300l. per ann. but of late years Miniſters have encreaſed it to 4000l.---This encreaſe was what he generouſly declined to accept, and not the original ſtipulation, which he choſe to retain, for fear of prejudicing his ſucceſſors in the place.

On Tueſday laſt the Hon. James Grenville, Eſq; brother to Earl Temple, was unanimouſly re-elected member for the town of Buckingham.

Yeſterday the Morocco Ambaſſador arrived at his houſe in Suffolk-ſtreet, from Plymouth.

A letter from Kettering, in Northamptonſhire, after relating the particulars of the dreadful fire which happened there on the 5th inſtant (as mentioned lately in the papers) adds, "The damage amounts to upwards of 4000l. much corn and grain were burnt, which the farmers had been backward in ſelling; and the poor, who are indeed half ſtarved and very wretched through the high price of proviſions, would not aſſiſt to extinguiſh the flames, but rather ſtood rejoicing at the farmers misfortune, and tauntingly aſked one of them, while his wheat-hovels and barns full of grain were burning, "Will you take 7s. a ſtrike (i. e. a buſhel) now for your wheat?"

We hear the Duke of Portland has reſigned his place of Chamberlain of the Houſhold.

According to private letters from Paris, a treaty has for ſome time paſt been on the carpet, for ceding to a certain Prince on the Continent, the French ſettlement and colony of Cayenne, in America.

They write from Stockholm, that large orders have been received for naval ſtores, to be ſhipped for the French magazines at Breſt and Rochfort.

We are informed that application is intended to be made to parliament, for a new regulation in the high rates of ſalvage, at preſent demanded by Pilots and others on ſhipping and merchandize, wrecked on the coaſts of Great-Britain.

The Earl of Hardwicke, in conſideration of the preſent high price of corn, has ordered all the wheat of two conſiderable farms, at preſent in his Lordſhip's hands, to be threſhed out, and made into flour, and ſold to the poor of the ſeveral pariſhes where his Lordſhip's eſtates lie, at a moderate price.

Yeſterday the price of corn in Mark-Lane fell one ſhilling per quarter.

Wheat ſells for 7s. a buſhel at Briſtol, and ſeveral other towns in the Weſt.

A letter from Italy, dated Oct. 30, ſays, "I hinted to you in my laſt, my intentions of making a tour to Corſica: I have ſince put them into execution. I had a moſt agreeable journey, and paſſed eight days at Corte with General Paoli.---This is really the moſt extraordinary perſon I ever met with; he is above all praiſe, his age is 42, his perſon graceful, and his addreſs extremely polite. He is learned in all the antient and modern languages, has a fund of knowledge that would aſtoniſh you, and ſo happy a memory, that you cannot quote any paſſage out of any writer of reputation, which he is not able to go on with. He has ſuffered much in his health by the vaſt fatigue and anxiety which he has undergone; and he mentioned to me, that he can even feel a ſenſible decay in his faculties. However he is ſtill of ſo ſuperior a claſs, that I am perſuaded you would be charmed with the knowledge of him. Corte is in the center of the iſland, amongſt almoſt impaſſable mountains, and has much the air of an old Grecian town."

It is ſaid the free importation of wheat and flour from the continent will be permitted for ſix months.

The corporation of Briſtol have come to a reſolution to ſupply the poor with corn and flour at a low prince.

HARTFORD, January 12.

The Weather which of late has been very cold, changed to warm; and laſt Monday began to rain, which continued that Night and next Day (there being a good Deal of Snow on the Ground) it occaſioned a great and ſudden Flood, which has done great Damage to the Mills, Dams, Bridges, &c. In this Place a large Dam is carried away, together with a Saw-Mill, and the greateſt Part of a Griſt-Mill, in which was deſtroyed a conſiderable Quantity of Grain and Meal; another Griſt-Mill on the ſame Stream has received ſome Damage, and the Great-Bridge was with the greateſt Difficulty preſerved. A Warehouſe, fitted up for, and occupied by a Family, at the Ferry, was entirely carried off by the Ice, and the Family very narrowly eſcaped, eſpecially the Woman, who was confined to her Bed, with a lame Leg.---Happily the Ice ſtopped before the Flood got to its Heighth, or 'tis probable all the Stores and Dwelling-Houſes at the River-ſide had been ſwept away.---All the Weſt-Diviſion Bridges, but One, are carried away, and their Mills much damaged---beſides the above, the Town will ſuffer greatly in the Loſs of Fences, which are prodigiouſly damaged---At Middletown, the Great-Bridge lately erected, is carried away, as is alſo ſeveral other Bridges on the ſame River---in the Weſt Part of that Town ſeveral Bridges, Mills, and Dams are ſwept away. Mr. Stephen Blake, of that Place, an Under Sheriff, and his Son, about 12 Years old, were both unfortunately drowned, in attempting to croſs a Bridge, at the South End of the Town---they were both on one Horſe. Mr. Blake ſuſtained a fair Character, and his Death is lamented by his Acquaintance. Their Bodies have been ſince taken up, and buried in one Grave. At Suffield, all their Mills, Dams and Bridges, are either carried away, or much damaged; and it is ſaid it will be ſome Time before any of their Mills can be fixed for grinding.---At Farmington, a Fulling-Mill, with its Dam, has been carried off; their Bridges are a good deal damaged, but none of them are entirely gone.---The Bridge at Windſor, which lately coſt 200l. in building, is deſtroyed. At Wintonbury, a Fulling-Mill, and a Dam, belonging to one Captain Gillet, was carried away, together with a Quantity of Cloth that was in the Mill. On the Poſt Road between this Place and New-York, there is only Kingſbridge, and a Bridge at Norwalk, left ſtanding. --New-Haven has ſuffered very much, having loſt three or four large Bridges, and two or three Dykes made for daming out the Tides.---In ſhort, our Intelligence is very diſagreeable, from all Parts of the Colony, no Town having eſcaped ſharing ſome Loſs, the whole of which will amount to conſiderable throughout the Government.

PORTSMOUTH, (in New-Hampſhire) Dec. 26.

Laſt Thurſday night began here, which continued all the next day, a ſnow ſtorm, in which time a larger quantity fell than has been known for many years at once, which put a ſtop to all intercourſe between town and country; no perſon pretending to travel, except the poſts, who all ſet out on Friday; but only the Southern has returned, who informs, that it was with the greateſt difficulty he reached Boſton the fourth day; and ſet off from thence the next morning, and came to town Wedneſday night; which was beyond expectation. The Weſtern carrier was a day and a half getting to Exeter, which is but 15 miles, and was obliged to hire Pilots, to find the way through paſtures, the road being filled up.

NEW-YORK, January 22.

We have intelligence from Dominica, by a private letter, that a great number of Engliſh veſſels have arrived there ſince it has been made a free port, particularly from New-England, whereby proviſions and lumber of all kinds, were become exceedingly plenty, and meer drugs, whilſt but very few foreign veſſels have arrived there; the French in particular doing all they can to prevent their veſſels from going to that iſland, and Martinico kept open to Engliſh veſſels, in order to induce them to come thither, rather than to Dominica, when they have ſuch commodities on board as ſuit the French Market.

Monday afternoon the Duke of Cumberland Packet, Captain Goodridge, ſailed from this port with the mail for Falmouth.

To the Printers of the PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

WHOEVER aſſumes the Character of a Critic, and ſets up his Judgment for the Standard of Propriety, conſiders himſelf wiſer than the Authors of the Subjects or Perſons he writes or ſpeaks about; and as many combining Qualifications are neceſſary to form a juſt Critic, it requires a Man to be uncommonly well acquainted with his own Genius, Taſte, and Diſcernment, before he can, with any Degree of Modeſty, offer himſelf as a Candidate for the Character. I will not pretend to ſay what Talents are neceſſary to make an accompliſhed Judge of theatrical Performers, but as juſt Remarks, in reſpect to their Propriety and Impropriety of Expreſſion and Action, may tend to improve their Stage, I am in no Doubt but the generous Man, who is truly conſcious of having theſe ſuperior Qualities, will exert them for the Service of the Public. I am led to theſe Reflections, from ſeeing an Eſſay of this Sort, in the laſt Week's Gazette, but as it is extremely difficult for a Man at all times to be ſo awake to common Senſe, or diſtinguiſhing Underſtanding, as to judge truly of his own Abilities, I ſhall remark that this Gentleman, who profeſſes a Delicacy of Judgment (as he terms it) has been deficient in two Things.----He does not appear to have conſidered the Character he aſſumed to himſelf, or has he examined the Subjects he writes upon. He tells us, that he is "ſorry Mr. Hallam, who is genteel in his Perſon and Action, does not take Copy from the Inimitable GARRICK, and ſpeak plain Engliſh, whenever he aſſumes a Character that may be ſuppoſed to underſtand the Language." True it is, with all his Merit, there is much Fault to be found with Mr. Hallam's Method of articulating.----He has begun, and continues, in a bad Habit of ſpeaking; he ſeems to ſuck in, or at leaſt not to utter the firſt Letters of the Words he ſpeaks; on which (in many Inſtances) the True pronouncing Sound of them depends; and it indeed is from this Circumſtance alone (which has eſcaped our Author's Obſervation) that People, in general, have concluded, that he either has not had an Opportunity of obſerving Mr. Garrick's Expreſſion; or if he has, that he is not improved by it. Beſides, as the Atlantic, at preſent, deprives him of the Opportunity and Advantage which might reſult from his endeavouring to copy from that unequalled Roſcius, we ſhall be glad to know, how he is to do it without an Interview? If our Author means only to let Mr. Hallam know that Mr. Garrick ſpoke good Engliſh; Mr. Hallam certainly underſtood that before; but if he thinks that telling him only, will inſtruct him to ſpeak with Propriety, he may be ſaid to equal Bayes in the Rehearſal---be PARADES--- to do nothing at all. In touching upon the Character of the juſtly celebrated and much admired Miſs Cheer, he firſt pays her the Compliment of being equally delicate with Mr. Hallam, whoſe Merit (except in this Compariſon) we acknowledge---and then he pronounces her one of the beſt Players in the Empire.---Does he mean the Empire of the American Theatre, or what Empire? For here the Author has left us a little in the dark. He then goes on to remark the Excellency of Miſs Wainwright, as a Singer, and tells us, that her Action exceeds that of the famous Miſs Brent; but as we never knew that Lady to appear properly in the Character of an Actreſs, we ſhall, in this Caſe, alſo be glad to know what Sort of Action he alludes to. As to Mr. Woolls's approved Performances, not only in Hawthorne, but in many other Inſtances; as well as Miſs Hallam's deſerving univerſal Applauſe and Encouragement, we readily ſubſcribe to; nor can we think otherwiſe but the American Company, in general, deſerve great Commendation.----But, notwithſtanding this, I preſume to think that they may receive juſt and ſufficient Applauſe, without drawing into Compariſon the Characters of the moſt eminent in their Profeſſion; for this, like beſtowing the Epithet of beautiful, upon a tolerable handſome Woman, muſt prove as real a Diſadvantage, and will, in the Eyes of Gentlemen and Ladies of Taſte, who have ſeen a Garrick and a Cibber, as the injudicious Friend would intend to do them Service.

To the Printers of the PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE.

AS you have heretofore been in the Practice of inſerting in your Paper, Remarks freely made on Subjects intereſting to the Public, it is hoped you will give the following a Place in your next.

It is an Obſervation often made, that the unneceſſary Increaſe of Taverns, Gaming, Tipling Houſes, Places of Diverſion, &c. has latterly, in this City and Province, been very great. But as theſe muſt be conſidered as Devices of idle Perſons, to drain the unwary Part of the King's Subjects of their Money, and by which alſo they are robbed of their Virtue, it gives thoſe in Power a fair Opportunity of appearing in the Peoples Defence, by a righteous Exertion of their Authority, for the Preſervation of Virtue, and Encouragement of Induſtry and Frugality among them.

But none of theſe appears to ſtrike ſo deeply at the People's Morals, or ſo likely to check that Frugality and Application to uſeful Employment, for which the Inhabitants of this Province have been ſo diſtinguiſhed, and to which its rapid Improvement is chiefly owing, than that great School of Debauchery now among us, called the Theatre.

And I do not wholly rely on my own Judgment, when I call it a School of Debauchery; but have the Authority of the moſt learned Miniſters and Meſſengers of the Goſpel, of all Ages of Chriſtianity, in ſo doing; likewiſe the zealous Teſtimonies of our own good Paſtors and Teachers, now living among us, all agreeing with me to the ſame Truth.

The Inhabitants of New-York have done themſelves Honour, in the Stand they made againſt the Stage; they conſidered the Introduction of Plays among them, as pernicious to the Morals and Virtue of their Youth, and drove the Actors out of their Territory (as one juſtly has it) with righteous Indignation.

There is, notwithſtanding the unhappy Introduction of the Stage here, a good Number in every religious Society, and Rank of People, in and about the City, who declare againſt it, with a Firmneſs becoming the Purity of their Religion, and Dignity of the Chriſtian Name.

Yet there are, I believe, ſome of every Rank and Society, who do attend the Plays; but many of theſe are perſuaded they cannot poſſibly derive any Benefit from ſuch Entertainments; wiſely concluding, that it is abſurd for any Perſon to pretend to improve the Manners of others, while his own lie altogether diſregarded: And that Men and Women, living in ſhameleſs Violation of Laws human and divine, muſt be looked upon by every wiſe Man, as Inſtruments very unfit to be employed in the Improvement of their Neighbours.

ANNAPOLIS, January 15.

Tueſday laſt arrived here together, three brigantines from Whitehaven, the Brayton, John Harriſon, the Curwen, Charles Younghuſband, and the Anne, Henry Jacques. They are manned with eleven men each, were chartered by one merchant, all built by one man, cleared out together at Whitehaven, ſailed from thence in one tide, never ſaw one another on the paſſage till they met together at our capes, entered at the cuſtom-houſe here together, all came for wheat, and ſailed together from hence for Baltimore.

A true Extract from the Journals, examined by

CHARLES MOORE, Clerk of Assembly."

Our Advices from London, by the Way of Ireland, are, that on the Eleventh of November laſt, the Merchants trading to North-America, were to have a general Meeting, on Buſineſs of the greateſt Importance: That it was hoped, and, with good Reaſon, believed, the preſent Miniſtry, who have the Intereſt of America much at Heart, would be continued: That the Merchants, who were formed into a regular Body, which they had not been before, were continually contriving ſomething new, for the Benefit of the Colonies, which, it was not doubted, would, in proper Time, be laid before His Majeſty's Miniſters: And that a Bill was before the Houſe of Commons, which, it was thought, would ſoon be paſſed, for repealing Part of an Act, paſſed laſt Seſſion, obliging all Maſters of Veſſels, bound to Europe from North-America, to give Bond, not to land non-enumerated Goods to the Northward of Cape-Finiſterre, except in Great-Britain; whereby Ireland was excluded, and had laboured under great Diſadvantages.

HE is a Horſe of ſuperior Form, in Size, Strength and Beauty, to any in America; and, from his genuine Blood as an Arab, is better ſuited for getting Race-Horſes than any other blooded Horſe amongſt us; but beſides this Encouragement for the Gentlemen of the Turf, his Beauty, Strength and Carriage, renders him equally fitted for mixing his Blood with our Country Mares, either for the Saddle or Carriage, the Arabian Horſes being remarkable for ſtamping their Figure and other Qualities on their Stock. He was adverтiſed laſt Year more fully, but as he has been ſeen, and greatly admired, by the beſt Judges from different Parts of the Continent, it is now thought unneceſſary to ſay more. He is kept by JOHN WING, near the Sign of King George, in Arch-ſtreet, and will cover at Four Guineas a Mare, and a Dollar to the Groom; the Money to be paid when the Mare is covered, or when taken from Paſture; the ſaid John Wing will take proper Care of all Mares that are ſent to him, and has procured good and ſecure Paſtures for them, at a moderate Rate. 6 M.
